Harry Donnette of Lewiston, on complaint of D. P. Chapman of Paris, for single sale, was found guilty and fined $50 and costs of $5.72. Failing to pay he was committed.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.
Dance in Opera House.
With a crowd that taxed the capacity of the Opera House on Tuesday night, Tinker's singing orchestra and concert company entertained on Wednesday night. There was scarcely room to dance on the floor, while the gallery was crowded. Modern and old-time steps were indulged in to excellent music furnished by the Tinkers. Previous to the dancing there was a musical program of high class and a minstrel show like those of the old days.

Veranda Club Picnic.
Veranda Club held their annual picnic at Mrs. Marguerite Dyer's on her lawn Wednesday, August 30. Although the attendance was not large, those present enjoyed a very pleasant day, with dinner under the shade tree and the weather all that one could desire. After a short business meeting in the afternoon, ice cream was served by the Club. At a late hour all departed to their several homes, pronouncing this one more pleasant event of the Veranda Club.

The Norway High School opened Monday morning with 50 entering the freshman year, which is the largest class in the history of the school. The grades and primaries open Monday, the 13th. Melzer Neelham of Orono visited his cousin, Oscar Neelham, during the fair. Mr. Neelham was born in Norway and this was the first time in fifty years that he has attended the Oxford County Fair. Mae Connelly, who has been relieving Julia Trimmwood as nurse at H. Walter Brown's for two weeks returned to Lewiston, Friday.

Harold Moore has signed up as violinist and singer in Tinker's famous orchestra. He will join the orchestra in about a month and all arrangements have been completed. Everyone knows about Tinker's orchestra and Mr. Moore must have the goods to be selected as one of its members.

If you can't borrow a copy, buy one. You should read this paper. It contains something of interest to you.
If not, it should, and we would thank you to tell us wherein it fails.
Will remedy the defect if possible.
Speak up, write up, tell us, telephone, visit.
We want all the home news that's fit to print, including pictures of yourself, your home, pet animals, etc., provided you bear the expense of having the half-tones made—which will vary from one to three dollars, according to size.

John D. Cole of Jamaica Plain, Mass., is spending the week with his mother, Mrs. W. C. Cole. Mr. Cole is motorman on the Boston Elevated Railway, which position he has held for the past eighteen years.

John C. Shepard entertained the members of the firm and the foremen of the Dingley-Foss Shoe Co. of Auburn, where he is superintendent, at Hillcrest Farm Cottage, Saturday p. m. The party, 30 in number, came in by auto. During the afternoon Capt. Sampson took them for a sail around the Cape, which they enjoyed very much. At six o'clock dinner was served on the piazza of the cottage. Music was furnished for the occasion by Clara Shepard, violin, and Mr. Harrison Lysselle of Auburn, piano. Mrs. Maud DeCosta and Mrs. Ned Packard assisted in serving the dinner and Miss Ethel Fleet of Auburn; Doris Shepard and Adeline DeCosta served as waitresses. The menu included soup, olives, cookies, roast chicken, cold roast pork, apple jelly, mashed potato, green corn, cucumbers, tomatoes, rolls, fruit salad, ice cream, cake, fruit, nuts and coffee.

The supper which the Y. P. C. U. and the Sunday School of the Universalist Church, was to hold, Tuesday evening, has been postponed.

Walter Stone, who recently enlisted and went to New York, injured his arm while there and returned to Norway, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sargent are planning to return to Norway to spend the winter. Mr. Sargent was for many years foreman of the cutting room in the B. F. Spimney & Co. shoe factory, and went from here to Portland to reside. They probably will have rooms at Emma Smith's during the winter.
Mrs. Julia Home has gone to East Waterford to assist Mrs. J. E. McIntire with her housework.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Portland spent a few days this week with Mr. Smith's sister, Edith M. Smith, and attended the fair.
Owing to the weather the meeting of the Home Department of the M. E. church, was postponed from Sept. 6 to Sept. 20, to meet with Mrs. Frank Dowd. At this meeting a picture of the members will be taken, and a review of the Sept. lessons, after which refreshments will be served and a social hour enjoyed.

Annual Meeting.

An unusually large number of members gathered in the society rooms promptly at one o'clock Thursday afternoon. Wm. J. Wheeler presided. The only important business that came before the meeting was the election of officers for the coming year. The list of officers are as follows for the ensuing year:

Pres.—Wm. J. Wheeler, South Paris.
Vice Pres.—Leslie E. McIntire, East Waterford.
Sec. and Treas.—Wm. O. Frothingham, South Paris.
Trustees—C. W. Bowker, So. Paris; Edward W. Penley, W. Paris; A. W. Weston, Hebron; T. P. Richardson, Norway.
Division Superintendents:
Grounds—Wm. J. Wheeler.
Stocks—E. W. Penley, L. E. McIntire, J. H. Kilgore, T. P. Richardson.
Hall—C. W. Bowker.

The Attendance.
As usual a small crowd gathered about the grounds Tuesday, probably 3,000 would represent the attendance. Wednesday proved to be a scorcher for weather and kept many from the grounds, but the box office figures showed 25,000 people in their tickets. Fifteen hundred automobiles entered the gates while across the street from the main entrance, 700 more were in parking space.

The weather janitor turned on the steam again Thursday so another roster headed on the heels of the previous day; nevertheless 12,000 to 15,000 visitors braved the torrid conditions. This was a trifle better than an average last day crowd. The motor cars numbered about 700.

The Auto Exhibit.

This new feature to the fair stay and each yearly fair brings into being new makes and advanced model of the common types. F. B. Fogg, South Paris, offered several styles of Hudson Sixes in the tent across the track and attracted many to his display. Frank Beck of Norway, assisted by Eugene Anderson, showed four models of the Overland, including the latest Knight motor. Ripley & Fletcher of South Paris occupied the neat "red top" near the auto gate, demonstrating the Cadillac and several new Ford. Norway Auto Co. under the direction of Her. Sturtevant put up a neat display of Oakland, nearby Mr. Stanley Pratt of Oxford very clearly exhibited the thirty-seven improvements or extras in the seven passenger 1917 Mitchell. Wilder & Pratt, South Paris, extolled the virtues of the seven passenger Studebaker. This company have sold nearly twenty cars thus far this season.

The Parade, Thursday
Owing to the heat there was some delay in getting this annual event under way, but close to eleven o'clock the parade started on its route. Marshal Alonzo Fuller of Portland, accompanied by several young people with the saddle horses, led the line, a platoon of police. The Brigade band and the Society officials in touring cars preceded the long string of gents driving horses, colts, mares, stallions and draft horses. The second division led by Marshall Penley of Paris included the prize winning cows, steers, many yokes of oxen and blooded bulls. Perhaps the most striking feature in this section was the Holstein herd owned by Arthur Cummings of Oxford.
W. S. Ripley of 228 Tremont St., Boston, paid his usual visit to the grounds Thursday. Mr. Ripley stated to the Advertiser that he was a member of the Paris band that furnished music the year the Agricultural Society held their first meeting on these grounds, somewhere in the '50's. At that time the band had 30 pieces, but out of that number only Jas. O. Crooker of Norway and Mr. Ripley are living to-day.

The Racing.

THE RACES WEDNESDAY

The weather was certainly a sizzler Wednesday, but a very large crowd found their way across the grounds where the three good races were slated as an afternoon attraction. Thirty-five hundred spectators packed the grand stand almost to the limit, being only too glad to rest under its refreshing shady roof. Several hundred more not so particular, lined the fences, while large family parties rested comfortably in automobiles parked near the judges stand or under the judiciously placed shade trees. Band of eighteen pieces, Arthur Pattengill, director, rendered one of their usual high class concerts and dispensed the customary popular selections during the races. This organization has been featured by the society for several years and their excellent work is surely appreciated by the thousands who follow their well balanced program.

Isaiah Morrill of Brunswick started the races. John B. Robinson, Oxford; F. M. Simmons, Rockland and W. H. Kilgore of Waterford, acted as judges. Thomas Thibodeau, Norway; Irving Thibodeau, Medford; and J. B. Robinson, timed the races. Donald Welch, Norway, acted as secretary.

Running races against time were in order during the afternoon. Laconia, an Indian pony, forty-one years old, who appeared Tuesday, ran an exhibition half, Wednesday, in 1:10 2/5, being ridden by Velma Higgins of Oxford. A saddle horse half-mile race with four starters created more or less excitement, the winner doing the ring in 1:05.

The Races Thursday.
Just the right kind of weather for racing, a good track and an attractive field of horses proved to be a magnet which drew 1500 people, Thursday to the grand stand and nearly as many more about convenient observation posts near the wire. Excellent music by the Lewiston band entertained all and the uncomfortable weather was forgotten during the concert hour. There was little doing in the 2:21 trot and the result was never in doubt after the first heat. A large field of seven starters opened up the 2:30 trot and pace, but the first heat proved fatal to Ruth W. and Earl C. for both got the flag in the first mile.

In the free for all there was a contest worth seeing. Anti Friction proved to be a great favorite with the crowd and was loudly applauded at every appearance. Margaret O. limbered up after the first heat and nosed out second place in the last two trials, but could not find the first berth held so easily by the favorite. The officials were as follows: Starter, F. M. Simmons, Rockland; in the 2:21, F. M. Simmons, Rockland; Judges, John B. Robinson, Oxford; W. H. Kilgore, Waterford; F. M. Simmons, Rockland; Timers, J. B. Robinson, Irving Thibodeau, Thomas Thibodeau, Secretary, Donald Welch.

The Upper Hall.

That Oxford county is a good place in which to raise fruit, despite the fact that it is an "off season," was manifest by the very large display of orchard products on both floors of the hall. As in years past, the eastern part of the county, especially Hebron and Buckfield, has the most exhibits, but the farmers in Norway, Waterford and Bethel explained that fact this year by calling attention to the hail storm early in the summer, which ruined thousands of dollars worth of young fruit.

Hebron is the banner town for raising pears, this year, the displays by Oliver C. Buck, D. A. Watson, L. E. Whitman, A. E. George and Dwight Cushman being especially large and attractive. Practically every grade of pear which can be raised in the State of Maine is shown by these exhibitors on the tables. Others who showed pears and plums were C. F. Churchill and R. A. Cooper of Buckfield; J. A. Hobbs, Beare Brothers, A. A. Conant and H. H. Merrill, Hebron; E. P. Crockett, W. M. King, E. P. Richards and Mrs. A. O. Wheeler, South Paris; D. B. Upton, O. B. Upton, Arthur H. Holman, W. C. Symonds, Dwight Cushman, E. O. French, John P. Howe, and Fred A. Dunn of Norway.

There were 101 other exhibitors of pears, plums and apples, making a display which has seldom been equalled on the grounds. The competition between the five leading granges of the county was keener than any year. They are Norway Grange, No. 43, G. W. Richardson, master; Paris Grange, No. 44, Albert Ryerson, master; Frederick Robie Grange, Otisfield Grange, No. 307, Ralph Merrill, master; West Paris Grange, No. 298, Ad. Tuell, master; and Hebron Grange, No. 43, C. W. Cummings, master. The granges this year had more space for their displays than in other years because of the addition to the hall, and Superintendent Charles W. Bowker allotted the best positions possible in the new structure.

The grange exhibits occupied the central space in the hall on the top floor. There was everything on exhibition, from the handwork of children to cake and household articles made by the oldest members of the family. The latter, in most part, consisted mainly of cake or patchwork quilts and knit goods. The Norway grange made one of the best impressions on the visitors in the history of the organization. One of the exhibits which attracted much favorable comment was the large tray of butter, made by Mrs. Adelaide Young, with letters standing out boldly extending from "Greetings From Norway Grange, P. O. H." Another feature of the Norway grange exhibition was the set of underwear shown by Mrs. Abbie J. Tubbs and which were made in 1869. There was an old fashioned heater and broiler occupying a conspicuous place near the long shelves loaded with canned fruit, and many other antique articles were scattered through the exhibit.

Norway housewives who are members of the grange apparently have been busy during the summer months, for there was not a fruit or berry which was not shown in the display of canned goods. The same was true of the other granges, although their exhibits did not appear as large as the local grange. Garden and field produce, as well as the orchards, were called upon to furnish articles which the members of the different organizations arranged in attractive and tasty alignment.

The general committee in charge of the Norway Grange display was Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Jackson, chairman, E. D. Packard, Annie Goodwin, Mrs. Scott Merrill and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Abbott. In the display by the Hebron Grange there are many oddities which lend an air of olden days. There is a small chair, 100 years old, shown by Mrs. E. A. Givon; a pewter set, copper measuring cups, wooden urns and horse pistol and powder horns, shown by Mrs. Nellie Hibbs. There are also a large number of entries of fancy work, while the excellent display of vegetables was tastefully arranged and attractive to the eye.

What has been said about the Norway and Hebron granges will stand repeating for the West Paris, Otisfield Gore and Paris organization. In the latter exhibit, in a glass case, the housewives arranged the products of their kitchen, and the water as he gazed upon the vast chicken and boiled dinner with all the fixins. The dairy exhibit was attractive, as were the exhibits of henery products. Looking at the latter, one coming from a city where eggs at retail sell for 72 cents a dozen, the feeling made itself apparent that there are fresh eggs, and then there are eggs which are not fresh.

In connection with the Hebron Grange was shown probably the largest display of apples ever made at the Norway fair. It was entered by John F. Moody of that town, former principal of Bridgton Academy and later with the Edward Little High School at Auburn. There were 30 plates in the exhibit, and Mr. Moody also showed several varieties of pears. Practically every kind of apple grown in this part of the county was shown by Mr. Moody. W. A. Conant of the same town had a large number of plates on view. The Paris Grange space was taken up to a considerable extent by apples shown by W. N. Judkins of South Paris.

Flowers added great beauty to many of the displays in the hall. The most conspicuous was a large American flag done in asters of red, white and blue by Mrs. W. H. Kilgore of Norway. There was also a cross of red and white asters made by Mrs. Mary N. Curtis of South Paris, and a large number of vases of cut flowers entered by many individuals. Nearly was a display of carpets from the store of N. Dayton Bolster of South Paris, and not far distant was the booth of the Morris people, in charge of Geo. W. Gebrow of Irum, Mass., who distributed handsome fans with every cold drink of the beverage, which has become famous. The spirit of Americanism was about the body of a two-thirds grown golden eagle, shot in Greenwood and entered by Mrs. Scott Merrill of Norway. The bird held proudly in its mouth a streamer of red, white and blue silk and there was a look of defiance in the proudly erected head. Close by was a calico patchwork quilt made by Mrs. Eunice Thurlow of South Poland. There were about 500 pieces in the quilt, all sewed by hand by Mrs. Thurlow, who is 81 years old.

Irving Wheeler, 14 years old, crippled son of W. B. Wheeler of South Paris, had on exhibition a small wooden bureau and a spool holder which he made with a jackknife. The work was done in a manner which showed patience, perseverance and mechanical skill.

The collection of color and pencil drawings by the children of the county was an innovation this year, and there were countless pieces made by the school children of the various towns in the county. The subjects were almost every conceivable thing, but animals seemed to have the call for studies by the youngsters.

There was a fine exhibit of patchwork by L. Eugene Hill, four years old, of So. Paris, and his brother, Almon Hill, five years old, both children of Adelbert Hill, and the work was almost as good as some women of the present day can execute.

In the children's exhibit, also, was brown bread made and baked by Margaret West, 11 years old, of South Paris, and a handsome silk sofa pillow, with "Safety First," worked by Edith Stevens, 14 years old, of South Paris. Nora Haskell of Norway and Thelma Robbins, also of Norway, showed sofa pillows.

A handsome sofa Afghan was shown by Mrs. Harold Bailey of Norway and an Irish crochet doily by Mrs. George Babineau of South Paris, a hand embroidered dress by Mrs. O. W. Brown and a basket of raffia work by Alice Penley of West Paris. There were among the principal articles in the space reserved for special fancy work. Handmade handle, chairs—a dozen of them—were shown by Mrs. Leona Ridlon of West Paris.

Four paintings shown by Mrs. Harley D. True of Norway showed studies of trout, strawberries, roses and a wood scene, all exquisitely done. Mrs. A. D. Park of South Paris showed flowers, animals and a cottage scene, and Emma L. Packard of Norway showed a fine lot of hand painted chinaware. Mrs. John P. Cullinan of Norway showed paintings of roses and a very excellently executed landscape. A marine view by Mrs. E. L. Greene of South Paris also was favorably commented upon.

Ethel Lapham of Norway had a display of six nature trays and next past out work was shown by Mrs. Charles B. Allen of Norway. A crayon of Paderwiski was shown by Marion Haskell of Norway, and a crayon of a monkey, dog and cat in the same happy family was exhibited by Gladys Abbott, also of Norway. A malted Scotch lunch set was entered by Mrs. Helen Scribner of Norway, and Helen Holmes of Norway had radio punch work on exhibition.

Jennie Baker of Norway had a large display of hand embroidered work, as did also Mrs. Harold Bailey, Margaret Baker, Marjorie Moffatt, Grace Whitney, Lina Holt, all of Norway, and Florence Leach of South Paris and Mrs. Leona Ridlon of West Paris. Crochet goods were shown by Mrs. J. P. Richards and Mrs. Mary Wright and Anna McCready, and crochet slippers by Mrs. Cora Whittemore of Paris and Mrs. Lina Holt of Norway. Knit gloves were exhibited by Mrs. A. D. Littlehale of West Paris, she also showing knit stockings, and Mrs. George B. Stone of West Paris showed spun yarn and a crochet jacket was shown by Mrs. Edith Patterson of South Paris.

Jitneys on the Job
Every man who had an automobile which was anywhere near in running condition started an independent jitney business during the fair. Cars which could not comfortably carry four persons and the chauffeur burned gasoline and safely made the bumps on Main street and ploughed up the dust between South Paris and the grounds. Some of the jitney men—those who had a car which they could jam five people in—thought no make more money than the man with the small car and Tuesday morning charged 10 cents for the privilege of riding in the buzz wagon from either village to the grounds. Others charged five cents, and it was the latter who skimmed up the cream of the trade.

The 10-cent men quickly saw their mistake in charging double price, and immediately cut down to a nickel. The jitneys didn't have any particular schedule but made a trip whenever there were enough passengers aboard to make it worth while to consume fuel.

Wednesday and Thursday double-deck jitneys appeared—the kind built something after the style of a street car and with a seating capacity of 20. They were cumbersome trucks, but they cut deeply into the trade which the little jitneys had inaugurated.

The E. H. Fellows Shows.

E. H. Fellows, with his company and outfit played the fair as usual, much to the delight of several thousand youngsters, who depend upon this amusement company for their annual sport. Not only are the little people given great fun, but a glance at any one of the diverse riding devices will prove that there are big numbers of old young people, who hanker for this excitement and are not ashamed to be seen enjoying themselves as in the good old kid days.

This year Mr. Fellows brought us the merry-go-round, Circle wags, Ferris wheel and the Panama Canal, occupying altogether a large space in the mid way. Beyond the track were pitched the cook tent, dining tent and several tents used for their sleeping quarters.

Owing to the summer engagement in Dominion Park, Montreal, the company have not been together this fall until they assembled on this societies' grounds, so there was a general old home week during the fair with open house every day.

During the past fourteen years Mr. Fellows and family have endeavored to furnish clean sport, conducted through businesslike and honorable methods. Unlike many similar organizations the management offer at every stand nothing but wholesome amusement carried out in a quiet, well selected company. The society is fortunate to have these shows here every year as they have proved in and are still proving to be the nucleus around which the splendid mid-way is built.

This year the show is made up of the following people: Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Fellows, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Fellows and son, Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fellows and son Bertram, Mrs. Murch, Mrs. Cleaves, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Parker, Wayne Grey, Harry Silver, Willie Silver, Oliver Martell, Dwight Canfield and Silvia Corvau.

NORWAY MUNICIPAL COURT.

Wm. F. Jones, Judge.
Jack Silvera, of Otisfield, was before the court the first of the week for drunkenness. He was found guilty and fined $3 and costs of $6.98. He paid and was discharged.

Ferley Cole, of Paris, for drunkenness was fined $3 and costs of $7.90. He was committed.

James A. Carr of Norway for drunkenness, was before the Municipal Court, Thursday, and was fined $3 and costs of $6.98 which he paid. He was arrested by officers Cole, Atkins and Pearson.
Harry Donnette of Lewiston, on complaint of D. P. Chapman of Paris, for single sale, was found guilty and fined $50 and costs of $5.72. Failing to pay he was committed.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Dance in Opera House.
With a crowd that taxed the capacity of the Opera House on Tuesday night, Tinker's singing orchestra and concert company entertained on Wednesday night. There was scarcely room to dance on the floor, while the gallery was crowded. Music and old-time steps were indulged in to excellent music furnished by the Tinkers. Previous to the dancing there was a musical program of high class and a minstrel show like those of the old days.

Veranda Club Picnic.

Veranda Club held their annual picnic at Mrs. Marguerite Dye's on her lawn Wednesday, August 30. Although the attendance was not large, those present enjoyed a very pleasant day, with dinner under the shade tree and the weather all that one could desire. After a short business meeting in the afternoon, ice cream was served by the Club. At a late hour all departed to their several homes, pronouncing this one more pleasant event of the Veranda Club.

The Norway High School opened Monday morning with 50 entering the freshman year, which is the largest class in the history of the school. The grades and primaries open Monday, the 15th. Melzer Needham of Onondaga visited his cousin, Oscar Needham, during the fair. Mr. Needham was born in Norway and this was the first time in fifty years that he has attended the Oxford County Fair. Mae Connely, who has been relieving Julia Trimwood as nurse at Dr. Walter Brown's for two weeks returned to Lewiston, Friday.

Harold Moore has signed up as violinist and singer in Tinker's famous orchestra. He will join the orchestra in about a month, when all arrangements have been completed. Everyone knows about Tinker's orchestra and Mr. Moore must have the goods to be selected as one of its members.

If you can't borrow a copy, buy one. You should read this paper. It contains something of interest to you.

If not, it should, and we would thank you to tell us where it falls.

Will remedy the defect if possible. Speak up, write up, tell us, telephone, visit.

We want all the home news that's fit to print, including pictures of yourself, your home, pet animals, etc., provided you will bear the expense of having the half-tones made—which will vary from one to three dollars, according to size.

John D. Cole of Jamaica Plain, Mass., is spending the week with his mother, Mrs. W. C. Cole. Mr. Cole is motorman on the Boston Elevated Railway, which position he has held for the past eight years.

John C. Shepard entertained the members of the firm and the foremen of the Dingley-Foss Shoe Co. of Auburn, where he is superintendent, at Hillcrest Farm Cottage, Saturday, p. m. The party, 30 in number, came up in autos. During the afternoon Capt. Sampson took them for a sail around the Cape, which they enjoyed very much. At six o'clock dinner was served on the piazza of the cottage. Music was furnished for the occasion by Clara Shepard, violin, and Mr. Harrison Lyssle of Auburn, piano. Mrs. Maud DeCosta and Mrs. Ned Packard assisted in serving the dinner and Miss Ethel Fleet of Auburn; Doris Shepard and Adeline DeCosta served as waitresses. The menu included soup, olives, cookies, roast chicken, cold roast pork, apple jelly, mashed potato, green corn, cucumbers, tomatoes, rolls, fruit salad, ice cream, cake, fruit, nuts and coffee.

The supper which the Y. P. C. U. and the Sunday School of the Universalist Church, was to hold, Tuesday evening, has been postponed.

Walter Stone, who recently enlisted and went to New York, injured his arm while there and returned to Norway, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sargent are planning to return to Norway to spend the winter. Mr. Sargent was for many years foreman of the cutting room in the B. F. Spinnery & Co. shoe factory, and went from here to Portland to reside. They probably will have rooms at Emma Smith's during the winter.

Mrs. Julie Horne has gone to East Waterford to assist Mrs. J. E. McIntire with her housework.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Portland spent a few days this week with Mr. Smith's sister, Edith M. Smith, and attended the fair.

Owing to the weather the meeting of the Home Department of the M. E. church, was postponed from Sept. 6 to Sept. 20, to meet with Mrs. Frank Dow. At this meeting a picture of the members will be taken, and a review of the Sept. lessons, after which refreshments will be served and a social hour enjoyed.

Annual Meeting.

An unusually large number of members gathered in the society rooms promptly at one o'clock Thursday afternoon. Wm. F. Jones presided. The only important business that came before the meeting was the election of officers to fill vacancies and the disposal of the growing timber on the lot outside of the fence along the easterly side. This last item was left with the trustees by a vote of the society.

In the election, Leslie E. McIntire, East Waterford, succeeded himself as vice president and Edward W. Penley, West Paris, as trustee. As J. H. Carter of Bethel was unable to serve as trustee in case of re-election, A. W. Weston of Harrison, received the nomination by Walter L. Gray, Esq., and was elected. Chas. W. Bowker, South Paris, succeeded himself as superintendent of the hall. Thus the list of officers are as follows for the ensuing year:

Pres.—Wm. F. Jones, South Paris.
Vice Pres.—Leslie E. McIntire, East Waterford.
Trustees—C. W. Bowker, So. Paris; Edward W. Penley, West Paris; A. W. Weston, Harrison; W. H. Kilgore, No. Waterford; T. J. Richardson, Norway.
Division Superintendents—Wm. J. Wheeler, South Paris; Leslie E. McIntire, East Waterford.
Hall—C. W. Bowker.

As usual a small crowd gathered about the grounds Tuesday, probably 3000 would represent the attendance. Wednesday proved to be a scorcher for heat and kept many from the grounds, but the box office figures show 25,000 passed in their tickets. Fifteen hundred automobiles entered the gates while across the street from the main entrance, 700 more were in parking space.

The weather again turned on the steam again Thursday so another roster trailed on the heels of the previous day; nevertheless 12,000 to 15,000 visitors braved the torrid conditions. This was a trifle better than an average last day crowd. The motor cars numbered about 700.

The Auto Exhibit.
This new feature is here to stay and each yearly fair brings into being new makes and advanced model of the common types. F. B. Fogg, South Paris, offered several styles of Hudson Sixes in the tent across the track and attracted many to his display. Frank Beck of Norway assisted by Eugene Andrews, showed four models of the Overland, including the latest Knight motor. Ripley & Fletcher of South Paris occupied the neat "red top" near the auto gate, demonstrating their latest model, a new Ford. Norway Auto Co. under the direction of Harold Bailey put up a neat display of Oakland, nearby Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Pratt of Oxford very clearly exhibited the thirty-seven improvements or extras in the seven passenger 1917 Mitchell Wilder & Pratt, South Paris, extolled the virtues of the seven passenger Studebaker. This company have sold nearly twenty cars thus far this season.

The Parade, Thursday.
Owing to the heat there was some delay in getting this annual event under way, but close to eleven o'clock the parade started on its route. Marshal Alonzo Fuller of Poland, accompanied by several young people with the saddle horses, led the line, a platoon of police. The Brigade band and the Society officials in touring cars preceded the long string of gents driving horses, colts, mares, stallions and draft horses. The second division led by Marshal Bailey of Paris included the prize winning cows, steers, many jakes of oxen and blooded bulls. Perhaps the most striking feature in this section was the Holstein herd owned by Arthur Cummings of Oxford.

W. S. Ripley of 228 Tremont St., Boston, paid his usual visit to the grounds Thursday. Mr. Ripley stated to the Advertiser that he was a member of the Paris band that furnished music the year the Agricultural Society held their first meeting on these grounds, somewhere in the '50's. At that time the band had 30 pieces, but out of that number only Jas. D. Crooker of Norway and Mr. Ripley are living to-day.

The Racing.

THE RACES WEDNESDAY.

The weather was certainly a sizzler Wednesday, but a very large crowd found their way across the grounds where the three good races were slated as an afternoon attraction. Thirty-five hundred spectators packed the grand stand almost to the limit, being only too glad to rest under its refreshing shady roof. Several hundred more not so particular, lined the fence, while large family parties nested comfortably in automobiles parked near the judges stand or along the track fence. Lewiston Brigade Band of eighteen pieces, Arthur Pattengill, director, rendered one of their usual high class concerts and dispensed the customary popular selections during the races. This organization has been featured by the society for several years and their excellent work is surely appreciated by the thousands who follow their well balanced program.

Isaiah Morrill of Brunswick started the races. John B. Robinson, Oxford, F. M. Simmons, Rockland and W. H. Kilgore of Waterford, acted as judges. Thomas Thibodeau, Norway; Irving Thibodeau, Medford, and J. B. Robinson, timed the races. Donald Welch, Norway, acted as secretary.

Running races against time were in order during the afternoon. Laocania, an Indian pony, forty-one years old, who appeared Tuesday, ran an exhibition half, Wednesday, in 1:10 1/2, being ridden by Velma Higgins of Oxford. A saddle horse half-mile race with four starters created more or less excitement, the winner doing the ring in 1:05.

The Races Thursday.
Just the right kind of weather for racing, a good track and an attractive field of horses proved to be a magnet which drew 1500 people, Thursday, to the grand stand and nearly as many more along convenient observation points near the wire. Excellent music by the Lewiston band entertained all and the uncomfortable weather was forgotten during the concert hour. There was little doing in the 2:21 trot and the result was never in doubt after the first half of that field of seven starters opened up the 2:30 trot and pace, but the first heat proved fatal to Ruth W. and Earl C. for both got the flag in the first mile.

In the free for all there was a contest worth seeing. And Friday proved to be a great favorite with the crowd and was loudly applauded at every appearance. Margaret O. limbered up after the first heat and nosed out second place in the last two trials; but could not find the first berth held so easily by the favorite.

The 2:21 trot was a double starting. F. M. Simmons of Rockland, (in the 2:21 only), Isaiah Morrill, Brunswick, Judges, John B. Robinson, Oxford; W. H. Kilgore, Waterford; F. M. Simmons, Rockland; Timers, J. B. Robinson, Irving Thibodeau, Thomas Thibodeau. Secretary, Donald Welch.

The Upper Hall.

That Oxford county is a good place in which to raise fruit, despite the fact that it is an "off season," was manifest by the very large display of orchard products on both floors of the hall. As in years past, the eastern part of the county, especially Hebron and Buckfield, has the most exhibits, but the farmers in Norway Waterford and Bethel explained that fact this year by calling attention to the hail storm early in the summer, which ruined thousands of dollars worth of young fruit.

Hebron is the banner town for raising pears, this year, the displays by Oliver C. Buck, D. A. Watson, L. E. Whitman, A. E. George and Dwight Cushman being unusually large and attractive. Practically every grade of pear which can be raised in the State of Maine is shown by those exhibitors on the tables.

Others who showed pears and plums were C. F. Churchill and R. A. Cooper of Buckfield; J. A. Hobbs, Deane Brothers, A. A. Conant, and H. H. Merrill, Hebron; E. P. Crockett, W. M. King, B. F. Richards and Mrs. A. O. Wheeler, South Paris; D. B. Upton, O. B. Upton, Arthur H. Holman, W. C. Symonds, Dwight Cushman, E. O. French, John P. Howe, and Fred A. Dunn of Norway.

There were 101 other exhibitors of pears, plums and apples, making a display which has seldom been equalled on the grounds.

The competition between the five leading granges of the county was keener than ever this year. They are Norway Grange, No. 45, G. W. Richardson, master; Paris Grange, No. 44, Albert Ryerson, master; Frederick Robie Grange, Otisfield Grange, No. 307, Ralph Merrill, master; West Paris Grange, No. 298, Adney Tuell, master; and Hebron Grange, No. 43, C. W. Cummings, master. The granges this year had more space for their displays than in other years because of the addition to the hall, and Superintendent Charles W. Bowker allotted the best positions possible in the new structure.

The grange exhibits occupied the central space in the hall on the top floor. There was everything on exhibition, from the handwork of children to cake and household articles made by the oldest members of the family. The latter, in most part, consisted mainly of cake or patchwork quilts and knit goods.

The Norway grange made one of the best impressions on the visitors in the history of the organization. One of the exhibits which attracted much favorable comment was the large tray of butter, made by Mrs. Adelaide Young, with letters standing out boldly extending "Greetings From Norway Grange, P. O. H." Another feature of the Norway grange exhibition was the set of underclothes shown by Mrs. Abbie J. Tubbe and which were made in 1898. There was an old fashioned heater and broiler occupying a conspicuous place near the long shelves loaded with canned fruit, and many other antique articles were scattered through the exhibit.

Norway housewives who are members of the grange apparently have been busy during the summer months, for there was scarcely a fruit or berry which was not shown in the display of canned goods. The same was true of the other granges, although their exhibits did not appear as large as the local granges. Garden and field products, as well as the orchards, were called upon to furnish articles which the members of the different organizations arranged in attractive and tasty alignment.

The general committee in charge of the Norway Grange display was Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Jackson, chairman, E. D. Packard, Annie Goodwin, Mrs. Scott Merrill and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Abbott.

In the display by the Hebron Grange there are many oddities which lend an air of other days. There is a small chair, 100 years old, shown by Mrs. E. A. Givens; a pewter set, copper measuring cups, wooden curios, and horse pistol and powder horns, shown by Mrs. Nellie Hibbs. There are also a large number of entries of fancy work, while the excellent display of vegetables was tastefully arranged and attractive to the eye.

What has been said about the Norway and Hebron granges will stand repeating for the West Paris, Otisfield Gore and Paris organization. In the latter exhibit, in a glass case, the housewives arranged the products of their kitchen, and the mouth of the hungry person would run water as he gazed upon roast chicken and boiled dinner with all the fixins'. The dairy exhibit was attractive, as were the exhibits of henry products. Looking at the latter, one coming from a city where eggs at retail sell for 72 cents a dozen, the feeling made itself apparent that there are fresh eggs, and then there are eggs which are not fresh.

In connection with the Hebron Grange was shown probably the largest display of apples ever made at the Norway fair. It was entered by John F. Moody of that town, former principal of Bridgton Academy and later with the Edward Little High School at Auburn. There were 30 plates in the exhibit, and Mr. Moody also showed several varieties of pears. Practically every kind of apple grown in this part of the county was shown by Mr. Moody. W. A. Conant of the same town had a large number of plates on view. The Paris Grange space was taken up by a considerable extent by apples shown by W. N. Judkins of South Paris.

Flowers added great beauty to many of the displays in the hall. The most conspicuous was a large American flag done in asters of red, white and blue by Mrs. W. H. Kilgore of Norway. There was also a cross of red and white asters and a harp of purple asters, made by Mrs. Mary N. Tufts of South Paris, and a large number of vases of cut flowers entered by many individuals.

Nearby was a display of carpets from the store of N. Dayton Bolster of South Paris, and not far distant was the booth of the Maine people, in charge of Geo. W. Gebrow of Lynn, Mass., who distributed handsome fans with every cold drink of the beverage, which has become famous. The spirit of Americanism was about the body of a two-thirds grown "golden eagle" shown in Greenwood and entered by Mrs. Scott Merrill of Norway. The bird held proudly in its mouth a streamer of red, white and blue silk and there was a look of defiance in the proudly erected head.

Close by was a calico patchwork quilt

made by Mrs. Eunice Thurlow of South Poland. There were about 500 pieces in the quilt, all sewed by hand by Mrs. Thurlow, who is 81 years old.

Irving Wheeler, 14 years old, crippled son of W. B. Wheeler of South Paris, had on exhibition a small wooden bureau and a spoon holder which he made with a jackknife. The work was done in a manner which showed patience, perseverance and mechanical skill.

The collection of color and pencil drawings by the children of the county was an innovation this year, and there were countless pieces made by the school children of the various towns in the county. The subjects were almost every conceivable thing, but animals seemed to have the call for studies by the youngsters.

There was a fine exhibit of patchwork by L. Eugene Hill, four years old, of So. Paris, and his brother, Almon Hill, five years old, both children of Adelbert Hill, and the work was almost as good as some women of the present day can execute.

In the children's exhibit, also, was brown bread made and baked by Margaret West, 11 years old, of South Paris, and a handsome silk sofa pillow, with "Safe First," worked by Edith Stevens, 14 years old, of South Paris. Nora Haskell of Norway and Thelma Robbins, also of Norway, showed sofa pillows.

A handsome sofa afghan was shown by Mrs. Harold Bailey of Norway and an Irish crochet doily by Mrs. George Babin of South Paris, a hand embroidered dress by Mrs. O. W. Brown and a basket of raffia work by Alice Penley of West Paris were among the principal articles in the space reserved for special fancy work. Handmade handle chairs—a dozen of them—were shown by Mrs. Leona Ridlon of West Paris.

Four paintings shown by Mrs. Harley D. True of Norway showed studies of trout, strawberries, roses and a wood scene, all exquisitely done. Mrs. A. D. Park of South Paris showed flowers, animals and a cottage scene, and Emma L. Packard of Norway showed a fine lot of hand painted china—Mrs. John P. Cullinan of Norway showed paintings of roses and a very excellently executed landscape. A marine view by Mrs. E. L. Greene of South Paris also was favorably commented upon.

Ethel Lapham of Norway had a display of six nature trays and part passed out work was shown by Mrs. Charles B. Allen of Norway. A crayon of Paderwiski was shown by Marion Haskell of Norway, and a crayon of a monkey, dog and cat in the same happy family, was exhibited by Gladys Abbott, also of Norway. A maltese crochet lunch set was entered by Mrs. Helen Scribner of Norway, and Helen Holmes of Norway had radio punch work on exhibition.

Janis Baker of Norway had a large display of hand embroidered work as did also Mrs. Harold Bailey, Margaret Baker Marjorie Moffatt, Grace Whitney, Lina Holt, all of Norway, and Florence Leach of South Paris and Mrs. Leona Ridlon of West Paris. Crochet goods were shown by Mrs. J. P. Richardson and Mrs. Wright and Anna McCreedy, and crochet slippers by Mrs. Cora Whittemore of Paris and Mrs. Lina Holt of Norway. #### Jitneys on the Job

Every man who had an automobile which was anywhere near in running condition started an independent jitney business during the fair. Cars which could not comfortably carry four persons and the chauffeur burned gasoline and safely made the humps on Main street and ploughed up the dust between South Paris and the grounds. Some of the jitney men—those who had a car which they could jam five people in—thought to make more money than the man with the small car and Tuesday morning charged 10 cents for the privilege of riding in the buzz wagon from either village to the grounds. Others charged five cents, and it was the latter who skimmed up the cream of the trade.

The 10-cent men quickly saw their mistake in charging double price, and immediately cut down to a nickel. The jitneys didn't have any particular schedule but made a trip whenever there were enough passengers aboard to make it worth while to consume fuel.

Wednesday and Thursday double-deck jitneys appeared—the kind built something after the style of a street car and with a seating capacity of 20. They were cumbersome trucks, but they cut deeply into the trade which the little jitneys had inaugurated.

The E. H. Fellows Shows.

E. H. Fellows, with his company and outfit played the fair as usual, much to the delight of several thousand youngsters, who depend upon this amusement company for their annual sport. Not only are the little people given great fun but a glance at any one of the three riding devices will prove that there are big numbers of old young people, who hanker for this excitement and are not ashamed to be seen enjoying themselves as in the good old kid days.

This year Mr. Fellows brought us the merry-go-round, Circle wave, Ferris wheel and the Panama Canal, occupying altogether a large space in the mid way. Beyond the track were pitched the cook tent, dining tent and several tents used for their sleeping quarters.

Owing to the summer engagement in Dominion Park, Montreal, the company have not been together this fall until they assembled on this societies' grounds, so there was a general old home week during the fair with open house every day.

During the past fourteen years Mr. Fellows and family have endeavored to furnish clean sport, conducted through businesslike and honorable methods. Unlike many similar organizations the management at every stand nothing but wholesome amusement carried on by quiet, well selected company. The society is fortunate to have these shows here every year as they have proved in and are still proving to be the nucleus around which the splendid mid-way is built.

This year the show is made up of the following people: Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Fellows, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Fellows and son, Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fellows, son, Bertram, Mr. and Mrs. Murch, Mrs. Cleaves, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Parker, Wayne Grey, Harry Silver, Willie Silver, Oliver Martell, Dwight Canfield and Silvia Corvau.

LOVELL

DON'T WAIT

Take Advantage of a South Paris Citizen's Experience.

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic;

"Till kidney troubles develop; 'Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Profit by a South Paris citizen's experience.

Mrs. L. E. Monk, Pleasant St., South Paris, Me., says: "I suffered dreadfully from inflammation of the bladder and couldn't get much relief. It was evident that my kidneys were very disordered, as my back pained me and my feet and ankles became swollen. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me fine results. Almost immediately, I had relief from the inflammation and as my kidneys were strengthened, the other ailments left.

Now, I use Doan's Kidney Pills only as needed and am always able to depend on them for relief."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Monk had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 37-38

FRYEBURG

Argue-Not Inn.

It is a sad fact that every visitor to Fryeburg looks at the sign on the hotel and wonders how they came to select such a name. The answer is simple. It prevented a family jar and saved the peace and tranquility of a home. It did more than that. It supplied the tavern with a title which was who hears or sees it, cannot forget. They are bound to keep it in mind throughout life and in coming this way to plan to stop a night at the house.

When the house was ready to open, the man and wife who owned it felt that a name was necessary. Each had an idea. Both ideas were different. The wife didn't feel that hubby's notion was suited for such a hotel as they were going to conduct, while he was equally certain that her's was a mistake. Again they tried but results were the same. So it went for some time. They could not reach an agreement on the proper designation for their hotel, which was to be first-class in every respect.

They talked and talked the matter over. It was becoming monotonous and some say, approaching the point where a rupture in diplomatic relations in the family was threatened. At the critical point the wife saved the day. "What's the use?" asked she, "let's call it Argue-Not and let the discussion."

So that is why you stop when in Fryeburg, at Argue-Not Inn.

HARKEN BACK ON THE PAST

Thirty-five Years Ago This Week. Cooper shop of John B. Rand, North Waterford, struck by lightning and burned.

If reports are true in regard to the number of typhoid fever cases in the village, the quicker some action is taken by the corporation to learn the whys and wherefores, the better.

W. W. Chute, Otisfield, has picked shelled and delivered 200 bushels of beans to the South Paris factory. He gets $2.00 per bushel.

Something must be done in the way of public enterprises to save the center of our village, and we know of nothing more sure to turn the tide that now seems to be in an opposite direction, than to put up a good block in the vicinity of the post office, with a hall sufficiently large to comfortably seat 300 or a 1000 people.

A building of this description, with good stores and pleasant offices would not go begging for tenants. ***The following year the Opera House Block was built.

Twenty-Eight Years Ago This Week. Don C. Seitz of the Brooklyn Eagle, and his mother, who visited here last week, returned Saturday. As the Bridgton News says:—"Don has risen to high newspaperial estate, his duties embracing such important roles as reporting the New York Legislature and the National Republican and the Democratic Conventions." He also does special work on Frank Leslie's and other publications.

H. Price Webber and Miss Edwina Gray at the Opera House. This was the 77th night they have played here.

Twenty-four Years Ago This Week. Aldro French and Mark Smith have entered Bowdoin College.

Government Supervision of National Banks

National Banks are members of the Federal Reserve Association made up of the more than 7,600 National Banks in the United States. They operate under the strict supervision of the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington and are subject to thorough examination at any time by National Bank examiners. Five times a year, but on dates not known in advance, an official call is made for a detailed statement of the Bank's financial condition, and this statement must be published in the nearest newspaper.

Your money on deposit at this Bank is safe, and keeping a regular account here entitles you to the many services and facilities of the Bank, not the least of which is the privilege of consulting the officers in regard to matters of money, business and investment.

An account at this Bank will help you.

William W. Howe.

The funeral services of the late William Weeks Howe who died on September 1 at Memorial hospital, North Conway, N. H., after a brief illness of one week, were held on Monday afternoon, Sept. 4, at the Church of the New Jerusalem.

They were conducted by Rev. Baman N. Stone, the pastor of the church, who spoke comforting words to the sorrowing friends.

Mr. Howe was the youngest son of the late Charles H. and Mrs. Mary Ann (Weeks) Howe of Fryeburg. He lost both his parents in early childhood. They left a family of three children, two sons and a daughter. He then went to Bridgton to reside in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ballard, the latter being an aunt of his mother. He often visited Fryeburg and was much beloved by his friends and relatives. He leaves a brother, Charles H. Howe and an aunt, Mary S. Howe, both of Fryeburg and an uncle, J. Madison Weeks of Green Hill, N. H., many other relatives, also nieces and nephews.

He was married a few years ago to Bertha Bishop, of Fryeburg, and since then Mr. and Mrs. Howe have made their home in that place. Mrs. Howe survives him. His sister, Mrs. Frank Sanborn, of East Fryeburg died last December.

Mr. Howe had been a very efficient and valued employee of the late Gen. Marshall P. Wentworth, Jackson, N. H., and at the time of his death he was in the employ of the Wentworth Hall Corporation. Beautiful flowers and kind words and acts testified to the respect and affectionate regard of his many friends. Among those present at the funeral services from out of town were Mrs. M. C. Wentworth, Walter Wentworth, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Berry and many other friends from Fryeburg, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ballard and Mr. and Mrs. Knight of Bridgton. The burial was at Auburn.

GREENWOOD

A cement bridge is being built over the Elwell stream near the hill of the same name in Greenwood. There is a rough and dangerous (to tires) by-pass and if skillful at the wheel you can get by. We found it last Sunday.

A Rhode Island car, A Paige, turned out a bit too far to let another car pass and got stuck in the mud near the Elwell Hill in Greenwood last Sunday. In a short space of time there were 21 persons around the car, telling how to get it out. A man and a pair of horses pulled it out. The R. I. car trailed us into Locke's Mills and we followed them to Bryant's Pond where it turned about and retraced itself. Guess they got on the wrong road.

Greenwood has fine scenery all along the road. In fact, a good road would make this one of the scenic spots for tourists. It reminds one of the New Hampshire beautiful highway that passes through Holderness and Ashland. This was one of the routes that was advocated for the Trunk Road S. We cannot but feel that not locating Route S this way is a distinct loss to thousands of tourists who will travel this route when completed.

Lincoln Cabin is Property of United States

Standing before the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born, now housed in a magnificent memorial structure, President Wilson on Monday, Sept. 4th, in behalf of the United States, accepted the Lincoln homestead, acquired by popular subscription through the Lincoln Farm Association. The President made his trip to Hodgenville wholly one of tribute to the memory of Lincoln, declining all invitations to make speeches in the political campaign.

"How eloquent this little house within this shrine is of the vigor of democracy," exclaimed the President as he spoke of Lincoln as exemplifying the American spirit as showing the heights which men of lofty birth may attain.

"We are not worthy to stand here," said he, "unless we ourselves be in deed and in truth real Democrats and servants of mankind, ready to give our very lives for the freedom and justice and spiritual exaltation of the great nation which shelters and nurtures us."

OXFORD

P. A. puts new joy into the sport of smoking!

YOU may live to be 110 and never feel old enough to vote, but it's certain-sure you'll not know the joy and contentment of a friendly old jimmy pipe or a hand rolled cigarette unless you get on talking-terms with Prince Albert tobacco!

P. A. comes to you with a real reason for all the goodness and satisfaction it offers. It is made by a patented process that removes bite and parch! You can smoke it long and hard without a come-back! Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

Prince Albert affords the keenest pipe and cigarette enjoyment! And that flavor and fragrance and coolness is as good as that sounds. P. A. just answers the universal demand for tobacco without bite, parch or kick-back!

Introduction to Prince Albert isn't any harder than to walk into the nearest place that sells tobacco and ask for "a supply of P. A." You pay out a little change, to be sure, but it's the cheer-fullest investment you ever made!

School Supplies

As usual our stock is complete in every respect.

We anticipated the rise in the price of paper and early in the spring placed our order for nearly 2,000 5c school tablets.

Consequently our tablets have the same amount of paper as formerly and at the same old price.

Also Pencils, Erasers, Crayons, Composition Books, Ink, Pens, Rulers and other things needed in your school work.

You need a Fountain Pen. We have them. A Waterman or Rexall, $1.00 to $7.00 each. Every pen guaranteed.

Norway and Vicinity

I had an auto tire blow-out at East Triton some weeks ago. It necessitated buying a new one. The garage man at Lacombe, N. H., told me the old tire could not be mended and that I should put up a holler to the manufacturer for a rebate. On my return to Norway I sent for them to mend, which they did, charging me $4. They guaranteed the part mended.

Mrs. Helen Ford and daughter, Irma, of Philadelphia, Pa., have been visiting her aunt, Mrs. E. M. Swan, at Norway.

Mrs. Helen Bryant, Locke's Mills was a recent visitor at Mrs. R. M. Swan's.

Iva Russell has resumed her duties at the telephone office after having a month's vacation.

There will be a special meeting of the D. A. B. Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Howard D. Smith on Oak Avenue. Special business is to come before the members.

Mrs. Harriett W. McWain, 100 years old and sister of Henry and Emerson Kilgore of this town, died at her home, yesterday. The body will be brought to Waterford for burial.

Remedies for Ivy Poisoning.

Direct contact with the poison ivy plant is not always necessary to produce poisoning, as the poison may be transferred from clothing, gloves and implements also from towels used by those who have been in contact with the plant. When there is reason to believe that there has been exposure to the poison, repeated washing with warm water and strongly alkaline soap as soon as possible is advisable.

There is no one remedy that will cure all cases of ivy poisoning, and in severe cases a physician should be consulted. Specialists have found the following methods and formulas useful in many cases: At the outset, removal of the cause of the irritation may be accomplished by cleansing the inflamed surface repeatedly with alcohol, or with a saturated solution of sugar of lead in alcohol, using a fresh bit of lint or absorbent cotton each time, to avoid spreading the irritant. The use of lead solution cannot be used over extensive areas because of risk of lead poisoning. Covering the inflamed parts with lint or absorbent cotton kept constantly moist with lime water or with a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda will afford relief. When this cannot be used, a simple ointment, such as zinc oxide ointment, is recommended. A solution containing 1 ounce of fluid extract of ginseng to 1 pint of water applied on cloths and allowed to evaporate, may afford relief. Black wash, prepared by adding 1 dram of calomel to 1 pint of lime water, may be applied two or three times a day, allowed to dry, and followed by zinc-oxide ointment. This treatment must be used with caution in extensive cases because of the possibility of mercury poisoning. The acute inflammation of ivy poisoning is sometimes followed by exema and secondary infections of the skin, which, in mild cases, will yield readily to treatment with bland antiseptic ointments. A formula highly recommended for ivy poisoning and often especially helpful at this stage is the following: Carbolic acid, 2 grams; resorcin, 2 grams; bismuth subgallate, 4 grams; equal parts water and lime water to make 250 cc.

This solution may be dabbed on the affected parts several times a day.

This Country will produce during the present year 20,000,000 gallons of benzol which is a by-product of coke manufacture. It will be largely used in the manufacture of carbolic acid.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox and their daughter, Mrs. Edward E. Harris, from Somerville, Mass., visited Mr. and Mrs. Oscar N. Cox at Noble's Corner a few days last week. While there they all took an auto trip to Rumford Falls. Mrs. Harris returned to her home in Somerville, Mass., Monday.

A few weeks ago we had an item stating that a rope had been placed at Gibson's Grove to warn parties in bathing of the dangerous drop into deep water at the sand-bar. This rope has not been put in place as it was deemed best to wait until another spring, as the bathing season is over and the rope and iron would have to be removed during the winter.

Mrs. Hattie Callahan, Mrs. Leona Keene and son Charles, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Richardson, returned to their home in Dorchester, Mass., by auto, last week, accompanied by Mrs. Richardson. During the trip Mrs. Richardson and party visited Bass Point, Nantucket, where they had a shore dinner at the Relay House, then going to Revere Beach and Paragon Park at Nantasket, arriving there in time to see the ruins of the park which was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. Mrs. Richardson returned by train to Norway Monday.

Frank P. Stone and family went to Leavitt Academy last Sunday, 43.1 miles. Mrs. Stone stood the journey nicely. Her health is improving. Her husband likes to work; when not in the drug store he is busy on his village farm and says it refreshes him to dig in the soil. This must be true as he well holds his own against the inroads of time and drug store work.

It never looked prettier than now over to Round Pond. The fish are not much in evidence but there are sizable black water spiders in the boghouse. The flowers are looking beautiful and at their best. Mr. Chandler has a lot of heavy wrapping paper to cover some of the vegetable garden in case of frost. He will probably soon have use for it. Let us hope the frost will come late this season. It certainly should after the sweeping republican victory of last Monday.

Charles E. Bittinger of Plymouth, Mass., wife and child are spending their vacation at Dr. Ferris' camp at Lake Thompson, Oxford. Mr. Bittinger is Memorial. Last year he spent his vacation at the Shepard farm.

Elva Perry has been a recent guest of Lena MacFarland at South Poland.

Mrs. Annie Kimball and daughter Ruth of Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Edith Kimball and little son Fred of Rochester, N. Y., and Mrs. Frank Shaw of Watford were week-end guests of H. L. Libby and Miss Libby.

Mrs. Annie Frost is again with her daughter, Mrs. Cairns, in Paris.

Kathryn Flint left Monday for Castine, where she will attend Normal school. Lovell Cleveland has resumed work on the electric in Portland.

Odell C. Rich, now a traveling salesman for a Portland concern, spent several days in town this week. He came Monday morning in time to cast his vote at the state election.

The Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church will meet Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Etta Noyes.

Henry Bibber, who has been foreman in the stitching room this summer, has finished his work here and gone to Auburn. Thomas Raymond, who left last spring, has returned to occupy the same position. Mr. Raymond is well liked by both the firm and employees of the stitching room and they have been trying to get him to return since he left last spring.

George Bennett has painted two large signs, which have been placed at each end of the street under construction. They read: Don't cross the track, keep to right. This makes a one way street and helped greatly in controlling the extra traffic during fair.

Norway Town Meeting

With the largest vote ever cast in Norway, the citizens on Monday registered their approval of a Republican administration and elected their candidates on the ticket from top to bottom. A total of 781 ballots out of a total registration of 961 voters were deposited in the ballot box, but only 769 of them were counted. The complicated ballot, peculiar to the State of Maine, was responsible for the many being thrown out as void, and others were declared questionable by the tellers.

The two referendums apparently did not interest the Norway voters to any great extent, for the one in regard to the employment of women and minors was given a vote of only 688, 481 being in favor and 227 in opposition to the Act. On the Act to provide for State and county aid in the construction of highway bridges, but 536 votes were cast, 456 being in favor and 80 against.

Milliken, for governor, received almost twice as many votes as did Haines in 1914, while Curtis' vote fell off 83 over the number cast for him in the same year. In fact, there were 143 more ballots cast for the head of the ticket than in 1914. While there were but two candidates for county treasurer this year, against four in 1914. Atwood lead Smith by 196, Atwood's plurality this year being 342 over Smith in 1914.

The voting on Monday was especially heavy during the first hour the polls were open there being 224 ballots cast between 9 and 10 a. m., and 175 between 10 and 1 o'clock. Charles F. Whitman cast the first ballot, Odell C. Rich the second and George W. Herrick the third. William H. Porter, 94 years old, and the oldest voter in the town, cast his 70th ballot at a State election.

For a time it looked as if there would be a shortage of ballots, for despite the fact that there are 961 registered voters in the town, only 780 ballots were received from the secretary of state. With the heavy vote cast up to one o'clock in the afternoon it became apparent that more ballots would be needed, and a supply was sent from Oxford. They arrived about an hour before the polls were closed and a considerable number of them were used.

One of the Republican leaders, when told there was a shortage of ballots, then said there was no surprise for they had been sent out by a Democratic organization. One of the factors to which the large vote was due was the free use of automobiles by leaders of both parties to transport local voters to and from the polling place.

There was unusual interest in the fight between Herbert F. Andrews of Norway and Leslie E. McIntire of Watford for representative to the Legislature from this district. While McIntire carried his home town by a fair margin, the majority which Andrews received here and in Oxford was sufficient to give him a majority of 40.

One peculiar feature of the voting here was in the marking of the ballot for judge of probate, Addison E. Herrick of Bethel being the nominee of the Republicans. He received 393 votes, which was practically the Republican strength, but one of the owners of the Old Colony Memorial. Last year he spent his vacation at the Shepard farm.

Elva Perry has been a recent guest of Lena MacFarland at South Poland.

Mrs. Annie Kimball and daughter Ruth of Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Edith Kimball and little son Fred of Rochester, N. Y., and Mrs. Frank Shaw of Watford were week-end guests of H. L. Libby and Miss Libby.

Mrs. Annie Frost is again with her daughter, Mrs. Cairns, in Paris.

Kathryn Flint left Monday for Castine, where she will attend Normal school. Lovell Cleveland has resumed work on the electric in Portland.

Odell C. Rich, now a traveling salesman for a Portland concern, spent several days in town this week. He came Monday morning in time to cast his vote at the state election.

The Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church will meet Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Etta Noyes.

Henry Bibber, who has been foreman in the stitching room this summer, has finished his work here and gone to Auburn. Thomas Raymond, who left last spring, has returned to occupy the same position. Mr. Raymond is well liked by both the firm and employees of the stitching room and they have been trying to get him to return since he left last spring.

George Bennett has painted two large signs, which have been placed at each end of the street under construction. They read: Don't cross the track, keep to right. This makes a one way street and helped greatly in controlling the extra traffic during fair.

Republican Parade

Friday night the Republicans of Norway and South Poland led a torch light parade around the streets led by Capt. J. Waldo Nash and a fine drum corps, from Shaw's orchestra.

After the parade a rally was held in the Opera House. The speaker for the evening was Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, who devoted his time to national issues. Col. A. J. Stearns, president of the Norway Republican Club, presided at the meeting and spoke briefly on the state issues.

Music was furnished by Shaw's orchestra and Mildred Shaw of Buckfield rendered vocal solos and was encored on each number. Those on the platform were: Ed. Hurch, Harry D. Cole, A. D. Park, Harvey Powers, W. H. Porter, Henry Kilgore, H. F. Andrews, T. P. Richardson, and J. Waldo Nash.

Norway Grange

Norway Grange met at their hall Saturday, Sept. 9, meeting called to order by Worthy Overseer Fred Lovejoy, who presided in the absence of Worthy Master Richardson. Arthur Buck was appointed to the over-seer's chair. Herbert Holt, steward, Sister Lizzie Howe, gatekeeper, Carrie Roberts, secretary.

There was but little business before the meeting. The literary program was taken up as follows: Song, America, Grange, as the theme of the program was "Home," quotations containing that word being generally given by those present. The topic "What is a home?" was discussed and it was heartily conceded that a home in the full sense of the word was priceless. A reading by Carrie Roberts was followed by the song "Home Sweet Home" by all.

The program for Sept. 23 is in charge of Ora Howe, who will be assisted by the young people.

Promoted to Sergeant

Albert C. Brackett of Company D, now in Texas, has for the third time been promoted to the rank of sergeant. The first time was while serving in the regular army in Cuba, then again shortly after joining Co. D of Norway. When the boys were sent to Augusta he requested to be reduced to private, which was done, but after reaching the border he was again made a sergeant.

Prof. and Mrs. A. R. Carl of Tilton, N. H., and Mrs. E. W. Lawd and son Alfred of Kearsarge, N. H., were recent guests of J. Waldo Nash and family. Mrs. Olive P. Eastman, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Nash, returned to her home in Kearsarge with them. Doris Longley, who has been working at the Weirs this summer, returned home Sunday.

Helen McCollin, who formerly worked as stenographer at the Advertiser Office a few years ago, has been spending a few days with Lilla York at A. P. Bassett's. Miss McCollin is stenographer at the Christian Science church at Boston, which position she has held for the past year.

Charles W. Willy of Biddeford is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Woodman. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton J. Massee who have been spending the summer at the Weirs, are visiting Mrs. Massee's father, James Danforth. Mr. Massee and Victor Harles have been taking walking trips around the eastern part of Maine doing the White Mountains and other places. Mr. Massee will leave Saturday for St. Louis, Mo., to resume his duties as professor in Washington University.

Dr. and Mrs. George W. Soule of Boston and Mrs. Soule's father, John Hazen, of Auburn are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Judkins. Miss Gibson visited his cousin, Mrs. Burritt Himes in Berlin, recently. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morgan and Harrison Merrill of Auburn are visiting Mr. Morgan's brother, Walter Morgan and family through fair week.

Mrs. George Williamson and Mrs. J. A. Cain of Dover, Mass., who have been visiting Scott Merrill and family have returned home. Daniel Bryant of Bryant's Pond visited at Scott Merrill's and attended fair this week.

Scott Merrill started in making apple barrels at his corner shop on Pleasant street Monday. He has a large number of barrels to make this year and will soon run his corner shop at West Paris. Those working on the street laid off Monday as those living away went home to vote in their home towns.

L. M. Lowrey has completed putting in plumbing fixtures at Fred Davis' on Whitman street.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Richards have moved into one of the newly fitted Cummings rents on Whitman street. Bert Dvinal and crew of South Paris have just completed the papering and interior painting of the two houses.

Mrs. George Bennett, who is on Pike's Hill for her health, is much improved and sits up most of the time.

Elhanan Tubbs and wife and Oscar Bennett and wife took an auto ride Sunday, the 10th, calling on friends in West Paris, Greenwood and South Paris. Mrs. Moses Kimball visited her brother Ralph Kilgore, at North Norway recently. Ethelyn Flint has returned to Lewiston, where she has a position in the office at the C. M. G. Hospital.

The Foreign Mission Society of the M. E. Church will meet with Mrs. Geo. Buswell Thursday, Sept. 21, at 3 P. M. All members are requested to be present.

Trolley Car Service

The Norway & Paris Street Railway Co. maintained a 15 minute service during the fair, and Supt. Howard B. Young and his crew handled the larger number of jobs, despite the large number of jitneys doing business. The 15 minute schedule on the trolleys was from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. each day.

The motormen were C. I. Frost, L. Fogg, H. A. Spiller, Charles Cutler and W. G. Stevens. Conductors were Guy Stevens, A. B. Bartlett, Descoteau, Philip Foss and Jameson Finney.

SOUTH PARIS

Edwin M. Thayer.

Edwin M. Thayer passed away, Saturday morning at the C. M. G. Hospital at the age of 68 years.

Mr. Thayer fell from a load of hay, August 11th, and sustained a fracture of his hip bone. The next morning he was taken to the C. M. G. Hospital, where everything was done for his recovery.

Mr. Thayer was the son of the late born in Paris, August 21, 1849, and had years. He married Clara Matthews, widow of his brother, Sidney Thayer, who died a few years later. Mr. Thayer, afterwards married Gertrude Noble of Sumner, who survives him, also their five children, Angie, wife of Alton I. Delano, of Whitman, Mass.; Woodbury of Bethel; Ray of Portland; Stanley and Donald of South Paris. The first three are married, the two youngest sons are still in school.

Mr. Thayer is known throughout the state as a horseman, having for a special hobby the care, training and driving of horses and collie dogs.

The remains were brought to South Paris, Saturday and the funeral was held at his home on Brook street, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. A. T. McHort, officiated, assisted by Rev. C. H. Newton. Burial took place at Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Everett Bessey of Rumford is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. E. Parlin of Pine street.

Mary Tidwell is the guest of Mrs. Dora Green and Mrs. Sarah Atkins. Roy Porter of Durham, N. H., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Granville H. Porter.

Earl Harlow is moving his household goods to Massachusetts. His mother and son Floyd will move there with him.

Mrs. J. E. Garvey and John Vitale, all of Lynn, Mass., were recent guests of Mrs. Abbott's, parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sweet.

Mrs. Alice P. Thayer, is the guest of Mrs. Brown of Chicago, is the guest of Mrs. Alice P. Thayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice F. Bragdon and two children of Portland are taking an auto tour through Oxford county and visited Mr. Bragdon's sister, Mrs. C. I. Spear and family while going through Paris.

Some of the teachers who had gone to Massachusetts to teach, came back on account of the schools closing because of the infantile paralysis. These schools will open in a few weeks when the cold weather sets in.

Mrs. Sarah Cummings is caring for her niece, Mrs. Minnie Robinson, who is ill at her home at Yarmouth.

A. W. Walker has been a recent guest of Henry Stearns at his camp at Lake Moosehead, New York.

THE RACE TUESDAY.

The usual small first day crowd gathered in the grand stand and along the fence near the finish wire watching two good races which were staged for the opening afternoon. Bethel Band of seventeen pieces, having Edward Herrick as leader, furnished a good concert program with popular waltzes and marches interspersed between the heats. Isaac Morrill of Brunswick called the races promptly at 1:30 and they were run off with very little unnecessary scoring.

John B. Robinson, Oxford; F. E. LaRock, Brunswick; W. H. Kilgore, Watford, acted as judges while Irving Thibodeau of Medford, Mass., and Thomas Thibodeau, Norway, held the watches. Alfonso Fuller of Poland was marshal. Dr. Chas. Grogg, Norway, managed the drivers' numbers, a duty he has performed for many years and Donald Welch acted as clerk of the course.

A novel feature offered in the form of a half mile running race proved attractive. Laconia, an Indian pony, forty-one years old, owned by H. Fuller of Oxford and driven by Bruce Hosmer, the twelve year old son of "Boss" Hosmer of Norway, ran the half in 1:06 1/4. Miss Agnes Fuller accompanied the runner with her speedy mount, but not for a record.

A possible accident was fortunately averted when the sulky wheel collapsed as Peru Bingen made the last quarter of the third heat in the 2:15 trot and race. Simmons skillfully brought his horse to a stop and averted serious trouble, but sacrificed second place for fourth in the heat.

Gathered Up

Geo. P. Downing of Norway and Auburn had the score card privilege and with a dozen lively assistants passed out the afternoon programs at a get busy clip.

The Bethel Band played well Tuesday afternoon and received many complimentary words from the people, who are acquainted with the history of the organization. This band numbers seven members including four ladies with Edward Herrick, a well known musician, as instructor and director. One year ago last July a number of musically inclined young people came together and organized merely for amusement. Perhaps half a dozen could read notes or blow a horn, but the remainder were enthusiastic and got after the different instruments with vigor. Good leadership with unflinching practice developed the "green ones" into real players, so today the organization is called upon to furnish music at lawn parties, political meetings, parades and fairs.

The Organizing Committee of Norway, which has been in charge of the fair, stated to the Advertiser concerning the interesting things concerning the fair, the grounds. Before the society purchased the present lot they held their annual cattle show in any old town, but increased business put a stop to this gypsy method so they settled on the present site. Mr. Cummings was the first to do a time of purchase. The great leader is the third one the society have built. Originally the circle was but one-third of a mile, owing to the small space, but as business increased the grounds were enlarged and the course lengthened. Mr. Cummings can remember when the track record of three minutes was broken and 2:30 was considered very fast. When a trotter owned by a Mr. Cushman of Norway did the mile in 2:26 there was almost a riot. Such an important local event netted the owner fifty dollar as a bonus. Mr. Cummings calls the peoples attention to the fact that the fair followed the lively business continually since 1871, a period of forty-five years. He claims to be the state champion and holds the belt unless contrindicted.

The Salvation Army Corps of Lewiston were on the grounds during the show. Five or six members represented the army and meetings were held in several places.

O. W. Spencer of Belfast, the well known candy butcher occupied his usual space near eating house square for the season. Mr. Spencer's chewing candy has a state-wide reputation for the candy kitchens were going full blast at Belfast, Old Orchard beach, Presque Isle and other places until owing to poor health the proprietor was forced to scale down and take things easy. A. M. Jackson, Geo. Roundlot and J. L. Hilliard were the assistants this year.

E. H. Fellows, a showman of wide experience stated to the Advertiser his belief that "something must be done in the very near future to relieve the congested mid-way especially during the middle day." The society is certainly prospering and the fame of the splendid agricultural show has spread far and wide. Fairs realize its possibilities, so flock here in large numbers, many coming with big attractions, requiring much space. Pleasure seekers are getting wise and out other exhibitors and help swell the ever growing attendance. These conditions must be met and overcome if this fair is to progress and grow better each year. Continues Mr. Fellows, "The only relief is to transfer the mid-way to the center of the trotting oval, making one long straight race track, the attractions on either side. Then construct a subway under the track, or an easy incline and wide enough to avoid congestion during the busy hours. Parking space could easily be found on land owned by the association, but now idle. This arrangement would give a free open space from the main gate to the cattle sheds, thus allowing twenty-five or six thousand people elbow room, beside lining up to advantage one of the best-fair lay-outs in the state. At the present time the mid-way is all hit or miss, without definite form and prohibitive in comparison to even smaller shows that have worked out this problem along the same line."

Prof. Linwood Flint of Watford, the Porcupine King and Barnum of Oxford County, while not in the show business

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GRASSMAN, 769 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it, and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. GEORGE A. DUNBAR, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KISSLER, 951 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

EATING HOUSES.

S. Holt's "Life Saving Station" which for 15 years has been on the grounds, feeding the multitudes who had good appetites, was again on the job. He hadn't been here before for 3 years, but he found enough old acquaintances to do a thriving business. It was his first year in a building, he heretofore using a "big top."

The Ladies' Aid Circle of the Norway Congregational church, did a thriving business. It was their 30th year on the grounds, being the pioneers of church societies to serve meals during the fair. As in years past, the meals were of home cooking. Mrs. Albert J. Stearns and Mrs. George W. Holmes, who are presidents of the Circle for the month of September, were in general charge of the arrangements.

The South Paris Methodist Church members had the third catering house for the fifth year. The committee in charge was Mrs. T. M. Davis, Mrs. Byrd Ordway, Mrs. Ernest Millett and Mrs. E. O. Millett. A feature of the bill of fare was beans baked in the ground by E. L. Millett.

At Twitcheil of Oxford, who for 30 years has served oysters in all styles as well as the best of baked beans, was again on the job.

The Ladies' Social Union of South Paris Universalist church of which Rev. C. G. Miller is pastor, also were on the grounds in charge. Mrs. W. W. Rippey and Mrs. Sadie Baker had charge of the dining room. Baked beans, salads and home made pies were the main parts of the bill of fare. The Union has put in a refrigerator this year, which is the largest of the cattle department.

Those in the box office selling tickets, this year, were W. A. Bicknell, W. S. Starbird, Harry Lowell, Mrs. Elizabeth Edgerly, Merrill Welch, Harry Kimball, W. L. Gray and Stanley M. Wheeler.

The collectors of postcards at the gates were Malcolm Briggs, Walter Bonney, F. W. North and John Burbank. Sheriff Frothingham had seven deputies on the grounds, besides Officers Chas. Boober, L. A. Hall and W. E. Russell.

The entry clerks were Mrs. Elizabeth Edgerly, Mrs. Stanley Wheeler, Muriel Bowker and Mary Pierce. William O. Frothingham was superintendent of the grounds, Charles W. Bowker superintending the hall, W. H. Kilgore and T. P. Richardson superintending the horse department, and E. W. Penley, J. E. Carter and L. E. McIntire superintending the cattle department.

BETHEL

Thayer-Kilgore

One of the prettiest weddings took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kilgore at North Bethel, Saturday evening, Sept. 2nd, when their only daughter, Irene Lucy, was united in marriage to Woodbury W. Thayer, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thayer of South Paris. Rev. J. H. Little officiated. The wedding took place under the fragrant pines that grow near the future home of the young couple. At the entrance to the grounds hung two large gayly colored lights. A bower of flowers and evergreen had been illuminated with Japanese lanterns. Many friends gathered beneath the trees and the minister took his place the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Howard, floated softly on the breeze, from the darkness appeared the bridal party. As they took their places the grand old pines on every side made a fitting background for the lovely picture. The services over Rev. Mr. Little was introducing the couple to their guests when suddenly a shower of confetti began to fall and they fled to the steps of their new home where with their attendants, Susie Smith of Augusta, a cousin of the bride, and Mr. Thayer of Portland, a brother of the groom, gave their guests a cordial welcome.

Delicious refreshments were served by Miss Delano and Mrs. Thayer assisted by the Misses Smith, Wilson, Baker, Sumner and Deegan. The gifts were many and beautiful. Mrs. Ruth Brown had charge of the guest book and Clara Mason gave each guest a portion of wedding cake, daintily wrapped and tied with ribbon. The bride's dress was white silk messaline with silk oriental lace. She carried white sweet peas. The brides' maids dress was green silk with trimmings of pink rose buds and green leaves. She carried pink sweet peas.

In the midst of the merry making the happy couple were not to be feared as an auto rolled swiftly past a triumphant blast of the horn showed how they had made their escape.

Among the out of town guests were, Mrs. Fredborn Smith and Sissie Smith of Augusta; W. J. Smith of Portland, Mr. J. A. Martin of North Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thayer of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Delano of Whitman, Mass., Donald Thayer of South Paris, Helen Baker of Newry, Mary Deegan of Greenwood and Arthur Farrar of Grafton. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thayer, the groom's parents, were prevented from being present by the illness of Mr. Thayer, who is in the hospital at Lewiston.

Irving Harriman has accepted a position as principal of the High school at Sherman.

The water in the little Androscoggin rose several inches over the spillway, Saturday. It seems that several miles north of us there was a tremendous shower, while we had only enough rain to lay the dust.

A portion of Pleasant street from Gary street toward the railroad station has been resurfaced with gravel from the river bottom. It is hoped this material on the pin-gravel, which contains clay will be an improvement. $200 of the amount raised for the maintenance of state high-ways was to be expended on this road.

About 60 people from here went to Lewiston, Friday, to hear Chas. E. Hughes. The trip was made in about a dozen automobiles which traveled in a procession through Oxford, Welchville, Mechanic Falls, and then joined in the automobile parade from the Lewiston station to the City Hall. The arrangements were made through F. A. Heidner. Seats on the stage had been reserved for the Paris delegation.

Sumner Davis, who has been working at Brownville Junction this summer, is spending a few days at home before returning to Bates College.

J. F. McArdle of Boston is stopping at the Andrews' House. Mr. McArdle formerly lived in South Paris.

George Knaptrick, who has charge of the Trust Company Bank of Portland was the week-end guest of Irving O. Barrows.

Ethel C. Crockett returned to Alfred Saturday, where she is assistant in the High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hickey plan to leave this week for Scotland to spend the winter with Mrs. Hickey's father. They plan to return next spring.

The family of C. A. Record and H. A. Morton are spending the week at Wells Beach.

Mrs. L. E. Bean and Corg Mason entertained the Pan Pan Club Friday afternoon.

Geo. B. Crockett lost a pocket-book containing about $8.00 at Lewiston Friday night by pick-pockets, in the vicinity of the DeWitt House.

Friday evening, Sept. 22, the Pollyanna S. S. class of the Methodist church will furnish the ninth Calender Club entertainment. They have engaged Rev. C. C. Chayer of Bates college as reader. Mr. Chayer is highly recommended by those who have heard him, and the music will be by the best local talent.

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

Many people suffer the tortures of lame muscles and stiff joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system. To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood-maker, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and rebuild your strength. Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief. Refuse the alcoholic substitutes.

Rambling, Personal Notes.

Printed to Amuse the Writer.

Hark! From the tomb the doleful sound,
Mine ears attend the cry
Again I tune my harp to these strains.
That's me with a cap M as I'm surely doleful and like other newspaper writers have been called a liar for years; for so long I really believe it a compliment and treat it as such.

When recently coming through Fryeburg, I neglected to set my watch by the sun-dial in Ben Brown's yard. Consequently I am without absolutely correct time. I am aware V. W. Hills of Norway has it, and I could write him and have the time come by mail from his wireless apparatus, but I dislike to bother him and shall probably worry along as I am until my return, when I shall have the watch set.

"Ain't you a little worldly, Brother Swain; working on the Lord's day?" "No, not in the least, Monroe, this is Monday," replied Mr. Swain as he stopped moving and cleaned his seythe preparatory to sharpening and to talk with Mr. Robinson, who had just pulled his boat out of the shore.

"Monday, Monday," repeated Mr. Robinson merrily, "is it possible you have taken me two nights and one day to cross that small expanse of water," pointing to the other shore, which was not over half a mile distant. It was possible, as he had left the other shore Saturday afternoon heavily loaded with Aunt Sallie's cider, carrying in each hand. This was the effect of over-indulging in farmers' apple-juice fifty and more years ago.

A man living near Fogg's station in New Hampton—now known as Winona, complained to Monroe of his hard struggle to make a living.

"My dear sir, why don't you sell that barren, sterile, rocky farm and move into some fertile valley?"

Could you see the farm on which the man was trying to live, you could more fully appreciate the good sense in the reply.

I passed it the other day, which brought the incident to mind.

Walter Lyman Sanborn, son of D. S. Sanborn of Norway, editor and half-owner of the Lansdale, (Pa.) Reporter announces titles of books he is expecting to receive. To wit:—

"What I Think of the Kaiser," in 20 volumes, by Theodore Roosevelt.

"The Complete Letter-Writer," by Woodrow Wilson.

"The Office and the Man; a Contrast," by Martin G. Brumbaugh.

"Wealth in Mind," by W. J. Bryan.

"White House Walls and College Halls," by William Howard Taft.

"The German-American Vote: Its Habits and How to Capture It," by Chas. E. Hughes.

"An Elderly Lady's Navy," by Josephus Daniels.

Maybe this is original with him. I found it in "The Lyman" column any how, which is under his special care and attracts my attention each week.

Bathers attract attention. Ten in the water and two dozen spectators on foot and in cars blocked the State Highway at East Tilton Monday p. m. Aug 21st and it was with difficulty you could pass, and there was no drowning accident, either. Why is it? I give it up. I'm simply stating a fact.

Ringed, streaked, and yellow is the plumage of the city girl with dresses out short and long legged, tightly laced, high-heeled white shoes. They are the envy of their country cousins, who drive the chickens to roost with sun-burnt legs and stone-bruised feet.

This is something of an apple country and trees well loaded with fruit, but there are not near as many apple trees here as in Oxford County. Norway and Paris alone, market more fruit than is raised in Belknap county.

This was a great cider producing county fifty years ago, but the old cider orchards are a thing of the past. The brown tails together with a change of public sentiment and temperance laws have ruined them. I recall a dozen cider-mills once doing a big business, that are now dismantled and only a few hand mills are in use. One is on this place, but its net commenced work yet. Amber Conner has a modern water power cider mill, but it's not been in operation only one fall in the past five years.

The big natural fruit orchards have past producing and the cider selling farmers of old linger only in memory as they too have passed along.

There is less war in Chemung than in the earlier days when cider was plenty and Tom Leavitt accused Deacon Ashael Sanborn, a pillar of the church, of having a wallet full of vinegar. He was not, but his net commenced work yet. Amber Conner has a modern water power cider mill, but it's not been in operation only one fall in the past five years.

along with me and others, have no faith in the productiveness of drifting sands. I wait results with interest and hope. Prof. Sargent is right in his diagnosis of the fruit producing qualities of bay sand, pure air and scenery.

I bought my trees of the Kelly Bros. of Danville, N. Y., at a cost of 13 or 14 cents each. They are good ones. Have bought of them perhaps 400 trees in all. Forty card loads of bay-sand manure were spread on the orchard last fall and previous to this, two crops of rye were ploughed into the ground, as well as last year's bean crop, which was ruined by rust. Prof. George A. Yeaton, S. O. D. of Orono, Me., is responsible for this as he told me that was the proper thing to do.

It rains to-day and I have left the barn sit, before an open fire in the house. It is so comfortable. I am once again occupying the Big Armet that I used to sit in when a boy and was sick.

During the winter of 1865 I used this chair a good deal; I had the membranous croup, and came near dying; so near the Revolver Butler offered a fervent prayer for my safe passage and administered medicine and gave advice and cheering words to father and mother.

My chest was covered with snuff and lard, by the suggestion of the Parson Doctor, and throat packed in ice and ice was given me to dissolve in my mouth. The ice was not so well as the snuff. I vomited up black membrane and mucus and immediately the fever changed to chills and nothing cold was wanted. Hot packs and hot drinks were given me and Aunt Dolly Tilton, dear old soul, I can see her now with sloping shoulders and bent form, wrapping a hot blanket about my feet and legs while mother was wringing out, pretty, near scalding hot packs for my lungs and throat. Father walked the floor and assisted and finally I began breathing naturally and fell asleep and the crisis was over.

It is possible I have reversed the order and the chills preceded the fever, but the treatment is correctly stated.

I sat in this chair, wedged in with pillows for weeks waiting the slow process of convalescing, while my sister and other children romped about in the snow with sleds and skates. How I wanted to be with them.

Rev. Oliver Butler was pastor of the church and it was said, studied medicine in his youth, and later became a minister of the Gospel to please his wife. Be this as it may, was on a worthy and useful citizen, administering both to the spiritual and temporal needs of the community. He has long since gone to his reward.

Ralph Butler of Butler's garage, Laconia, is a grandson.

While laying on July 4th, 1870, I broke my right wrist in getting out of a rack and became entitled to use this chair and in it I fainted when the broken bone was being set. Either was not used. Two strong men pulled until the bones came into place and it was set and splinted up by the doctor.

Two weeks later the wrist was again broken and reset by Dr. George Sanborn in his office at the village. He saying he was ashamed to let me go through life with such a looking wrist and he whacked it down on his knee, breaking it apart. The bones were then put in place and in due time I had a good wrist and arm.

In May 1874 while I was attending school at New Hampton, I had a big abscess in my right armpit and was again restricted to the chair for some days. I recall sitting in it for two sleepless nights before the abscess broke.

Dr. George Sanborn attended me and I can see how he looked when he suggested lancing it and had a small, pointed instrument poised in his hand ready to make the stab. "It will take you at least two weeks longer to get well if I lance it, but it will relieve the pain, what say you?"

I preferred to bear the pain as I was anxious to get back to school.

"All right," he said, carefully laying away the lance. "You've got to suffer some; keep it poulticed and wait. It will break of its own accord and you'll get well quicker."

Two days later, on a bright Sunday morning in June when the church bell was ringing, I fell asleep in this chair and remained so until mother awoke me. An examination showed the troublesome sore had broken and a small quantity of white fluid had run down my side. I went to bed and slept almost 24 hours and then came the great gushing flow. The doctor removed the core with pliers. It was about the size of an English walnut and I soon got well. No sterile bandages or strong smelling gauze or antiseptic solutions were used. Nothing but hot water and castile soap. I've lived to tell the tale and to see the most profound and mystic antiseptic methods in the treatment of a human flesh. Great progress has been made in surgery in the past forty years.

This is a portion of the history of the Old Arm Chair as it relates to me. There are thousands of just such historic chairs all over the world, but only a fair assumption and Old Tom Leavitt enjoyed telling it.

I'm half owner in a four-acre orchard set to Baldwins. This is the second year since the trees were set out and they are looking fine, as well as the beans.

The State Orchard Demonstrator of Durham has charge, and if I can get Joe Smith, my partner, to follow his instructions, we'll have a 'worth-while orchard by and by. Intelligent spraying, pruning and feeding trees is necessary for the production of apples.

Charley Davis, (Slipertoe) told me this. He lives on Allen Hill in Oxford and has the goods to show. He also said that apple raising was just like raising sheep: "You must keep the ticks off, keep 'em clean and feed 'em."

Mr. Davis has one of the best looking farms from the road—there is in two townships and he raises lots of hay and keeps over a hundred head of neat stock and 15 horse kind and makes money. He never works, that is, I've never caught him at it and he says he don't have to, as his wife (just like my wife) has full control over everything and he on his part is unnecessary. When not dicker on a trade, he sits in the shade and watches the others labor. This is all I ever saw him do.

Prof. Willis Sanborn's spectacular horticultural venture in Winslow and is not looking as well this year as I had hoped to see it. Mr. Sanborn is chasing sunbeams and doing a promoting stunt somewhere in Florida and "the hired man" is in charge and this probably accounts for it. Without faith you can do little and no doubt the man-in-charge

among the Oxford Hills

The town of Greenwood celebrated its centennial year in August. Greenwood is a country town which has made remarkable progress within the past few years and is steadily increasing in popularity as a summer resort. The town center, Locke's Mills village is situated on the Grand Trunk Railway 65 miles from Portland, and a State highway S. from Gray to Bethel within a radius of three miles are four beautiful little lakes which are fast coming into favor with the summer people. The principal business of the town is the large spool factory of E. L. Tibbets and the saw mill. Several brick yards and a more prosperous and thrifty farms and farmers help to make Greenwood one of the thriving towns of Western Maine.

Bryant Pond experienced the busiest summer season for years. Several cottages have been erected on the shores of Lake Christopher, besides several additions to some of the older ones, and a large crew of carpenters and workmen will be employed throughout the season. It is estimated that not less than $25,000 or $30,000 will be expended in improvements and additions to the summer property this year.

LOWER HALL

The lower hall in the main exhibition building was a busy place for several days before the gates were ready to be opened on Tuesday morning. Carpenters had erected several shelves along the walls and more space had been taken on the floor for booths than ever before.

There was about anything one would want with which to fit a home. Starting with the bathroom equipment could be found for every other room in the house, even down to a Victrola or graphophone the latter being shown by Freeland Howe of Norway.

It was the Howe exhibit that attracted considerable attention for each day during the fair he gave a continuous concert, with records by noted song artists from all parts of the world.

The Atherton Furniture Co., with Fred H. Davis and Charles E. Akers busy as bees, had an excellent display of household furnishings from the famous Glenwood ranges to necessities for the dining sitting, and sleeping rooms. The location of the Atherton display was in front of the main entrance, and one couldn't enter the hall without stopping to look at the display.

In one corner was the United States Cream Separator, and housewives and their husbands alike commented favorably on how easy it is to handle the product of the dairy with one of the machines.

The Leather Craft Shop had space near the main entrance and the exquisite pieces of leather work found a ready sale.

The Scotch Brand Hop Ale occupied the next space on the right of the hall and many a thirst was knocked out at the counter.

Longley & Butts, the plumbers from Norway, had their space arranged in the form of a modern-plumbed home, sanitation being the object of the exhibitors at all times.

Pianos and organs were shown in the Cressley & Jones exhibit.

Shoes such as are worn by the armies fighting in Europe and the soldiers of Uncle Sam at the Mexican border, as well as hunting boots for those who like to spend time chasing game in the woods in the fall or winter, were in the exhibit of R. L. Bean.

The Ideal Scarf Form people had a pleasing exhibit on the lower floor. It looks like an easy matter for a man in a hurry to adjust his necktie without resorting to strenuous language.

Miss Grace Thayer of South Paris also had a fine exhibit of furniture on the lower floor as one entered the hall from the grounds.

The Portland Express-Advertiser and Sunday Telegram distributed sample copies of the papers, had a corps of reporters on hand to write events in connection with the fair and sold advertising space.

The Poole pianos had a large section of space, as did also Moxie, the drink for nervous people.

Probably the exhibit which attracted as much attention as any at the fair was that entered by "Uncle" William H. Porter of Norway. It was an elegant display of vegetables of all kinds, planted, raised and harvested by Mr. Porter, who was 94 years old last May. There was cabbage, sweet corn, squash, beets, citron, pumpkins, carrots, musk melon, parsnips, potatoes, turnips, tomatoes, and other garden truck, and Mr. Porter smiled broadly when told the collection would make a fine New England boiled dinner. Probably the oldest man to attend the fair during the three days was Mr. Porter, who also had the distinction of being the oldest person to have an exhibit of farm products, as well as having attended the Oxford County Agricultural Society during the last 70 years.

Mrs. Rachel Emery of West Paris was another of the old persons who had an exhibit near that of Mr. Porter's. They were Hog Horn potatoes, raised from small ones by Mrs. Emery, who is 73 yrs. old. The potatoes were rough skinned dark red in color and looked somewhat like the Early Rose.

Domestic print butter was shown by Mrs. A. F. Jackson of Norway and Bonnie View Farm, Elmer Cummings, proprietor, of Paris.

Susan Bradbury of Norway had a tempting display of canned fruits and vegetables, including turnip, crab apple, strawberries, rhubarb, currants, corn and shell beans.

Frisella Bean of Hebron, 14 years old, had 14 cans of fruit entered, all of which she had "put up" herself.

Adeline Deosier of Norway had 24 cans of fruit and vegetables and they were the object of favorable comment.

Eva L. Packard of Norway and Ralph Cummings, also of Norway, showed white celestine for Thanksgiving table.

Olva Perry of Norway, Laish showed a dozen cans of home made preserves.

Maple syrup and 34 jars of fruits and vegetables constituted a pleasing exhibit by A. E. George of Hebron whose reputation for good things is such that a fair trader, located in the town, would find it hard to keep his shelves without something from his farm, which is one of the finest in Oxford county.

W. J. Wheeler of South Paris had a large exhibit of pianos and organs on this floor, with continuous playing of popular and classic compositions on the instruments.

OTISFIELD

Mrs. Fannie M. Lord of Otisfield, died at the C. M. G. hospital, Sunday evening. She was admitted Saturday evening for an emergency operation. Mrs. Lord was 45 years of age and besides her husband is survived by two children.

Early Hours for Baby.

Babies are little creatures of habit and it is better to keep them to good habits than to allow bad ones to be formed. The baby should be undressed and bathed at the usual time every night, then fed and put to bed. In the sleeping room is very warm, a small cot may be placed in a cooler room, if it is quiet there, so that the baby may go to sleep as usual, and later in the evening the baby may be gently moved to his own crib.

The point is to go through the usual procedure of undressing, etc., and not keep the baby up to be played with and spoiled until he will not go back to his usual good behavior.

RID YOUR CHILD OF WORMS.

Thousands of children have worms that sap their vitality and make them listless and irritable. Kickapoo Worm Killer kills and removes the worms, has a tonic effect on the system. Does your child eat spasmodically? Cry out in sleep or grind its teeth? These are symptoms of worms and you should find relief for them at once. Kickapoo Worm Killer is a pleasant remedy. At your Druggist, 25c.

WEST FRYEBURG.

Meeting of Stirling Club.
The Stirling Literary club met September 6th at the home of Mrs. M. A. Hill, with a good attendance of members, a bright afternoon and a noticeable interest. Mrs. Meserve contributed a timely newspaper article in the speech of President Wilson, accepting Lincoln's birthplace memorial for the nation. The paper received the close attention it merited and was followed by lighter sections, as a group of poems and the short story from the "Outlook" which filled the time allotted to the program and allowed a brief time for social pleasantries and adjournment to meet with Mrs. F. H. Meserve, September 20.

We were reminded bright and early Monday morning that "as goes Maine so goes the Nation." The going was steady stream toward the town house, automobiles, carriages and even an occasional bicycle, any way to get there, and deposit the ticket that seats or unseats the governor, senator or representative or others down the line of office.

Henry Andrews kept his auto upon the go carrying the aged and crippled comrades of the Civil War, living in this section, also Fryeburg's oldest citizen, Asa Charles, who treasures the Boston Post card from the "Outlook" which Farrington was chauffeur for Mr. Andrews' machine and has proven herself perfect in her line. She is Mr. Andrews' daughter.

Mrs. David Hill was the recipient of a post card shower on the birthday that marks her threescore and fourteen, September 9th, and the kindly thoughts of friends in Fryeburg, Lovell and West Fryeburg, as well as more distant places are appreciated.

John Grover and Lee Billings of Waterford, were at George Abbott's, Saturday and got a load of cedar posts, which Mr. Abbott had bought for the use of the town.

Merritt Sawin recently went to Erving Green's to look after some sheep which he had pastured there and one was missing. Old Bruin's tracks were plentiful both in the pasture and field near the house. The pasture is enclosed by a woven wire fence, but Mr. Bruin very cleverly removed a board from the bars and evidently got in and out the same way, leaving several looks of hair as keepsakes and taking the sheep with him to devour at his leisure. The cunning old brute has so far outwitted his would be captors and undoubtedly laughs in his sleeve while he still dines on the beef and fattest mutton to be found. Why not have a bear day and turn out in a goodly number and hunt the old thief down?

David McAllister and family have gone to Fryeburg, to work in the corn shop. Win McAllister has gone to the same place.

WILSON'S MILLS

Sybil Bennett has been a guest of her aunt, Mrs. C. E. Fox for a few days.

For Sale, a sitting room coal heater, wood and coal grate, Philip Stone, Norway.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.
We were treated to a big melon raised by Arthur Hebbard in his Paris Street home garden where big hens and large eggs abound. This melon was one of a cart load raised by him. He requested we save and return the seeds to him, which we have done. Evidently Arthur is not going to let the seeds get away from him.
Will Tucker, who recently bought the Jas. Partridge place at Norway Lake is building a long henhouse in his field. Evidently he is going into hen raising. Our Hudson 6-40 car has used 115 gallons of gasoline in going 108 1/2 miles, thus it's evident we got 9 and 39-115 miles to the gallon. Probably none were carried. Distance 7 and 8 persons were carried. We smile when we hear people say they think they get about so many miles to a gallon. Try it and see.
Francis Penley of Buckfield, who was operated on at the Trufant Hospital, Wednesday the sixth, died Tuesday. His age was 19 years.
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Clark, who are spending the summer at Old Orchard, went on a business trip to New York, recently. Ella Clark went to Old Orchard to care for Albert during their absence.
John Hazelton of Portland was in town during the fair. Though John has been away seventeen years he has more friends here than perhaps any other man. One of his daughters is in a business college preparing herself for that kind of work.
Victor J. Harles, an artist of St. Louis and Dr. Clinton J. Massek, a professor at Washington University at St. Louis, became lost in a thick blanket of fog while taking a hike through the White Mountains. They were on the summit of Mt. Madison and had descended not more than half the way before they lost their bearings. While carefully feeling their way down, Harles lost his hold and slid quite a distance. In trying to save himself, by grasping a protruding rock, he turned his right ankle. They finally reached a lumber camp where they were taken in and returned to Norway by way of Winthrop.
Oxford Chapter, O. E. S., has accepted an invitation from Keoka Chapter, Waterford, to visit them and exemplify the work, October 14th. Banquet at 7 o'clock.
Prof. John A. Nichols of Boston, Mass., the eloquent temperance orator, will speak at the M. E. church Tuesday evening, Sept. 26, at 7:45 under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. Last year he visited Great Britain and he was tendered a reception by the United Kingdom Alliance at Manchester, England. There will be music by local talent. No admission, but a collection will be taken.
The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. Church will serve an old fashioned boiled dinner with baked Indian pudding at the Grange Hall, Thursday, October 5, at 12 o'clock.
At 6:30 at the same place they will serve a harvest supper consisting of vegetable hash, baked beans, pumpkin pies and many other good things.
Emmie M. Crooker of Dorchester, Mass., has been spending five weeks in Norway at Mrs. Fred Rowe's and calling on Norway friends. Miss Crooker was born in Norway and went from here when twenty-one years old. She says she has enjoyed every minute of her stay here and hopes to return next summer. She returned to Dorchester Tuesday.
Fred Albert Given, of Portland, one of the leading violinists and teacher of New England, died at his home at Cumberland Ave., at the age of 48 years. He is survived by a wife and son, Fred H. Given. Mr. Given was well known in Norway and his orchestra has played here many times. Also he frequently assisted the Norway musicians' orchestra. He began the study of the violin at the age of 11 and was the leader of an orchestra at the age of 16. Besides being a player, Mr. Given was a composer of much ability. He wrote the music to Junipero Sierra, written by Roy Chester Gore Miller. This was first produced at the Jefferson Theater.
He was the son of Wm. H. Given, a Lewiston Band master and cornetist. He belonged to many musical organizations.
A corn roast was enjoyed Tuesday evening by twenty of the high school scholars and a few invited guests. A picnic supper was served on the shore of the lake near the Shepard cottage and corn and marshmallows roasted.
Work has been commenced on the new gymnasium. The boys have clubbed together and take turns in digging and are planning to do the digging for the basement.

NUMBER 38.
Oxford Bear Torchlight and Automobile Parade.
On Tuesday evening, Sept. 26, there will be a monster torchlight and automobile parade given by the Hughes and Fairbanks Clubs of Norway and South Paris, in which the whole of Oxford County will be represented.
Congressman-elect Wallace H. White, Jr., will be present and it is expected that the Governor-elect and other officers elect will also be present.
The line of parade will be formed on Western Ave., at South Paris depot, from there, sled factory to High street to the Square, where there will be speaking for fifteen minutes. Reform and march to depot, where autos and electric will be taken to corner of Main and Paris streets where the parade will be reformed and march up Main street to Bridge and Pleasant to Crescent, to Whitman, to Pearl and Beal, to Danforth, to Main, to Cottage to Pearl, to Deering to Hall, where more speaking will be held.
There will be music by the Rumbford Brass Band and Norway and South Paris drum and pipe corps. There will be illuminations and decorations along the whole line of march.
Capt. J. Waldo Nash will be chief marshal, with A. D. Park, E. C. Louey and Phillip M. Everett as mounted aids.
The following committees have been appointed. The Executive Committees of both clubs will act as general committee:
Com. on Parade—Capt. J. Waldo Nash, Philip M. Everett, Norway; A. D. Park, E. C. Louey, South Paris.
Com. on Advertising—Albion L. Buck, W. A. Bicknell, Norway; Arthur E. Forbes, South Paris.
Com. on Illumination—S. W. Goodwin, Lester V. Ashton, Frank P. Stone, Omar W. Chase, E. B. Stetson and S. Harriman, Norway; Chas. H. Howard, Dr. D. M. Stuart and Frank Hadden, South Paris.
Com. on Decorations—C. S. Akers, Fred H. Cummings, Walter L. Hutchins, Z. L. Merchant, Norway; W. E. Porter, Geo. O. Perkins, Wheeler, South Paris.
Com. on Soliciting Funds—Wm. O. Leavitt, Frank L. Brett, Capt. J. Waldo Nash, Chester Gates, Norway; Harry Adams, Frank Hadden, South Paris.
Com. on Autos—H. Walter Brown, Elton Brown, Claude Haskell, Chas. H. Dunn, Guy L. Curtis, Norway; Stanley Wheeler, Leonard Sessions, Pearl Ripley, South Paris; Lester Penley, West Paris; Raymond Atwood, Paris.
Com. on Transparencies and Banners—Wm. Packard, Henry W. Stone, Fred Gregg, W. M. Akers, Victor Partridge, Norway. South Paris to be announced later.
This is expected to be the biggest time ever seen in the two towns, and every one along the line of march is expected to illuminate.
DEMOCRATS MADE GAIN
Revised figures of the vote cast for governor in Norway at the State election show that the Democrats here made a gain of 83 votes for their candidate over that cast by them in 1914. The total vote this year was 392 for Milliken and 353 for Curtis against 199 for Haines and 270 for Curtis two years ago.
Driven from Accustomed Labors.
Last week Grandma and I were driven from the Printing Office on account of the extra pressing of Cattle Show week. Our desks were filled by younger hands who could dispatch work more quickly. Somehow the paper looks and reads all right if we didn't have anything to do but occasionally peek in and look sour and glum.
We rode round in a big car driven by a chauffeur just to let the public know we didn't have to work.
Norway Town Farm.
General conditions as to cleanliness and care of food supplies, very good. Repairs, good. A new ceiling is needed in the kitchen. Several floors have been painted since the previous inspection.
If vagrants are to be sent to the almshouse it is recommended that quarters entirely separate from those of the other inmates be provided for them and that they be required to work.—State Board of Charities.
Busy At Beals' Tavern.
Wednesday, the middle day of the fair, was a busy day at Beals' Tavern, when a record was established in the number of persons fed reached 250 persons. Landlord Seavey was hard put to find food enough for the multitude, but he had taken the precaution to stock up the hotel larder to the limit, and everyone had enough to eat during the day. During the supper hour every table in the dining room was occupied and a double line of hungry ones waiting for places reached from the door to the hall out to the hotel veranda. A large number of automobile parties were accommodated during the day. Tuesday and Thursday also brought a large business to the Tavern.
Zilpha Bicknell entertained a few of her friends to an afternoon tea, Saturday afternoon from four to five, in honor of her tenth birthday. They played games. Refreshments of cocoa, sandwiches, fancy cookies and crackers and a birthday cake were served.
Mrs. Lydia Swift of Revere, Mass., has been visiting relatives and friends in Norway and South Paris.
Mrs. Alice G. Twitchell of Washington, D. C., has been visiting friends in town the past week.
Miss May Thibodeau, day supervisor at the main exchange of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. in Boston, returned to her home in Winthrop, Mass., Saturday after spending a vacation of one week in Norway.
George A. and Mrs. Gunn, who have been in Norway for the past two weeks, return to their home in Danvers, Mass., Friday.
O. W. and Mrs. Brown returned to their home in Lynn, Mass., Thursday morning.
Mrs. W. H. Kilgore of Norway Lake whose asters are admired by every one who passes her house, made all of the large flower pieces of asters displayed in Agricultural hall at the fair. The large Astor flag with its stripes of red and white alternating and the white stars on the blue field; and of purple asters; the red asters and hardy pansies; the wreath—nearly a heart; the pillow; the wreath—nearly a dozen different designs. No one but a lover of flowers could have done this vast amount of labor. Mrs. Kilgore made them all herself.
Josephine White, of Philadelphia, Pa., is the guest of Addie Shattuck at the Shattuck farm.

Auto Drops in Hole.
A Pierce Arrow automobile, owned by Mrs. D. H. K. Burnett of East Orange, N. J., and driven by Michael Leucas, met disaster, Friday night, when it dropped into a hole on Main street near Hobbs' store. Besides Dr. Burnett and the chauffeur, were Miss Katherine Burnett, daughter of Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. Henry B. Trombley of Summit, N. J.
The party left East Orange last Sunday for a tour of New England and were on their way from the Poland Spring House to the White Mountains when the accident happened. The chauffeur was making his way carefully through the rain and along the newly built roadway when the earth gave way under him. The forward wheels dropped about 18 inches below the surface, snapping the forward axle and wrenching one of the springs. Mrs. Burnett, sitting in the tonneau with Mrs. Trombley, was jolted from her seat and badly shaken up, while Miss Burnett, on the front seat next to the chauffeur, was thrown against the wind shield.
While the car was being hauled out of the hole it was taken to Beck's garage for repairs, the women went to Beals' Tavern where they remained over night starting Saturday forenoon on their journey. Mrs. Burnett said it was the first accident to the machine since the party left home, although they have been over some pretty bad roads. The heavy rain was blamed for the washout causing the hole into which the car dropped.
Congregational Church Notes.
The annual Rally Day will be observed at the Congregational church on Sunday, October 1st. There will be a big special program at each service of the church. In the morning at 10:40 the pastor will preach upon the theme: "The Standards of Christian Service." The sermon will emphasize a phase of thought much before the public and it will be a good sermon to hear at this time. In the Sunday school there will be a unique program given by the scholars of the school. This exercise is called "Preparedness for Christian Service," and was prepared by E. D. S. Kinney especially for Rally Day observance.
At the evening service "Pilgrims Progress" will be shown in motion pictures. These beautiful pictures present a magnificent and spectacular Christian and moral lesson without a suggestion of sensationalism; and tell the story much more impressively than a reading of the book. Remember Rally Day, October First.
The men of the Congregational church will enjoy a Get-together Banquet on Friday evening, September 29th, at 7:30 o'clock. After the banquet Frank D. Tubbs, A. M., T. D., Bates college, most popular professor, will address the men upon the Mexican Situation. Most of the men will remember with pleasure the evening spent with Dr. Tubbs last winter and all will wish to hear him again. This occasion is for the men of the church and their friends.
Thrown from Wagon in the Dark
Walter S. Buck was thrown from his team Monday evening. He struck on his head and shoulders and was partially stunned. A large package of groceries fell from the wagon with him and he did not pick them up and some other fellow got them before Walter got around to where the accident occurred the next morning.
The up-set took place near Round Pond gateway and was caused by the horse getting into the ditch in the dark. Mr. Buck was fortunate to escape with so slight injury and loss of property.
Slowed Down the Branch Train
The Norway Branch train had slowed down and the engineer tooted and rang the bell, driving a horse and express wagon before it on the side of the track. The horse was not frightened but acted as though it had the right of way and knew what it was about and swang round so the wheels would clear the fence and came into the road heading for the fair grounds. This happened Monday afternoon.
The team had no driver. It didn't need any, but it slowed down for a while the rapid transit transportation between the two villages.
Wilson Family Reunion.
A pleasant family reunion was held recently at the home of Belle Wilson on Fore street. It was the reunion of the sons and daughters of the late James M. Wilson. The party included Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Libby and son Edgar and Edith Wilson of Newton, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Wilson, of Woburn, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Wilson of Oxford and Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Winslow and son Raymond, of Norway. The reunion was held at the old home and the time passed pleasantly by attending the fair and visiting friends and relatives.
Ruth Holgate has resigned her school at Crockett Ridge. Miss Holgate is teaching in Lewiston this year.
Hazel, the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Mosher, has been ill for some time and upon consultation her illness has been pronounced as a mild case of infantile paralysis. The last Sunday in June Mrs. Mosher returned from Providence, R. I., with the child and since then has not been away. While all of the symptoms of infantile paralysis were not present, a sufficient number of the symptoms were manifest so that the case has been officially diagnosed as such. Mr. Mosher, who is superintendent of the Mason Manufacturing Company's factory, lives on Alpine street. All precaution has been taken to prevent the spread of the disease.
Bessie York spent Sunday and Monday with her cousin, John Gibson and family at Oxford. They enjoyed an auto trip to Poland Springs.
There will be an important meeting of the Norway Board of Trade at the Municipal court room Friday evening, Sept. 22. The numbering of houses for the free mail delivery will be one of the questions discussed.
The train Sunday morning which usually leaves at 5:25 a. m., went down at 11:30 a. m., on account of the wreck below Shelburne, N. H., when fifteen cars were wrecked. A number of parties were planned to take the early train, went by auto to Mechanic Falls and made connections with the electric.

Mrs. Dora Tower is working for Mrs. Chas. E. Libby, at her home on Paris St. Mrs. Freeland Howe, Jr., and her mother, Mrs. Ann M. Brown, and her niece, Bertha Brown, and her nephew, Dana F. Brown, and Mrs. Talbot Mundy left Tuesday morning for Bangor, where they will spend several days with friends and relatives. Bangor was Mrs. Brown's former home.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hutchins are spending a week's vacation with Mrs. Hutchins' sister, Mrs. Bertha Adams, at Oakland.
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woodward of Clairmont, N. H., were guests of friends in town for a few days the first of the week.
The Comrades and Ladies of Harry Rust Post are invited to a campfire in Grange Hall, South Paris, Friday, Sept. 22nd.
Mrs. Albert Cote and daughter Ardele went to Lewiston the end of the week. Mrs. Cote is having her eyes treated.
Mustard pickles and pepper sauce is the order of the day in well regulated homes.
"My horse tracked in the wheel-rut and it was dark and I was dumpped and stunned and gathered up what I could but didn't get the package of groceries—who do you suppose did?" This is what Walter Buck told us Tuesday morning. Four big oxen and four good horses were used in toting the D. A. R. marker from Sodom to Witherell Park. R. K. Morrill did it. Oh, didn't he swell out and strut when he crossed the head of Main street? It was a fine looking team and a big load and he had a right to feel proud while in the service of the Daughters of the American Revolution.
Someday says the name of the Revolutionary Heroes are to be chisled onto the Sodom boulder in the Park. Don't do it. Get a bronze tablet and then they will be readable. It may cost a trifle more but who cares for money in such a patriotic enterprise?
Fifty cents pays for a copy of this paper for four months. You better send it to an absent one. It's like a letter from home to them. Try it and see.
Harry Lovejoy is to have charge of trimming the trees on the water side of the road leading to Norway Lake. He trimmed it this summer for the first time. Billy Bolter has done the work for several years past but he has not moved away.
Keoka Chapter, No. 12, of Waterford, have extended an invitation to visit them on the evening of Wednesday, October 2, Oxford Chapter to exemplify the work.
Agnes Sanborn, who has been a successful teacher in Massachusetts for several years, will resign her school, and remain at home to care for her father for the present.
Ruth Bean, who has taught French and German at Sherman Mills has a position at Auburn, N. Y., and has left for that city. Mrs. Mildred Corbett accompanied her.
Anna Hoegg and daughter, Janette, and Mrs. Alice Fraser of Portland, were at Della Noyes' this week, making the trip with Dr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Whibley. The ladies attended the fair.
May Thibodeau of Boston spent last week with her father and sister. Irving Thibodeau and wife of Medford, Mass., were also guests.
Mrs. A. L. Millett of Portland is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Charles G. Blake and family. Herbert Demmon and son Clifford of Harrison, were guests of the Blakes during the fair.
Ethel Bradbury, who has been working at the Bates Shirt Co., during the summer, returned Friday to Calais, where she teaches the Commercial Course. Eulalie Davis of Mechanic Falls, has been her guest at the Bradbury cottage.
Mrs. Harriett E. Houghton, of Bowdoin Street, Portland, has been a guest of Mrs. A. S. Kimball.
Lake Temple, Pythian Sisters held the first meeting of the season, Tuesday evening, September 19th, at K. of P. hall.
At the Cafeteria Lunch to be served at Concert Hall Wednesday, Sept. 27, from 6:30 to 8 o'clock, the menu will be cold ham, hot beans, hot rolls and sandwiches, doughnuts, tarts, cookies, cranberries, cream puffs, lemon, custard, squash, apple, pumpkin, and whip cream pies, lemon sherbet and cake, coffee and tea.
Ethel L. Brown of the Norway Board of Trade has been named as representative to attend the State-wide good roads meeting at Augusta, Wednesday, Oct. 4, at 2 p. m. Headquarters at the Augusta house. Arrangements have been made by the Maine Automobile Association to hold a directors' meeting in Augusta during the forenoon of Oct. 4 and then attend in a body in the afternoon the state-wide good roads meeting. Invitations have also been issued to the various United States senators and congressmen-elect to be present, and it is very probable that the question of Federal aid, as it applies to Maine, and as it affects this State through the medium of the Bankhead-Shakelford bill, will come up for discussion.
Walter Stone, the artist, who recently enlisted with the U. S. Regular Artillery and went to Fort Slocum for practice, had the misfortune to break his collar bone, and he is on a six weeks' furlough in Norway.
Work at the corn factory is being rushed along. Seven days of the week are found to be necessary to work. Notwithstanding the unseasonable weather the first part of the summer, the corn is unusually sweet.
Marion Downing and Doris Merrill have been spending a few days at East Stoneham, at the Gurney camp at Lake Kewadine, the guests of Miss Downing's uncle, Kenneth Gurney.
Marjorie Barker, who is teaching English, French and music at Berlin, N. H., spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. F. N. Barker.
Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Michelson of Auburn have announced the engagement of their daughter, Annie Michelson, to S. Koslansky of Norway. Miss Michelson is a well known dressmaker in Auburn.
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dwyall, Mrs. Frank Libby of Rochester, N. H., and Mrs. W. W. Sheen motored to West Paris, Saturday afternoon, where a pleasant surprise was given their friend, Mrs. Belle Kerner, who is enjoying a rest with friends. After a social lunch, evening was passed together the return home was made by moonlight which was much enjoyed by the party.

Mrs. Charles M. Clough.
Mrs. Charles M. Clough, the mother of Mrs. C. F. Ridlon, passed away Sunday morning at 2 o'clock, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herman Paragard, in Lynn, death being due to acute indigestion. Mrs. Clough had been in her usual health, but at midnight she called her daughter, and lived only two hours.
She was about 70 years of age, and came to Norway in October, 1907, after the death of her husband in Saco, where they had resided for many years, to live with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Ridlon. She spent the past winter with another daughter, Mrs. Paragard in Lynn, returning to Norway the first of July, where she remained until Labor Day, when Mr. and Mrs. Paragard came to Norway in their auto, Mrs. Clough returning with them. On their way home, they stopped in Saco over night and she saw many of her old time friends, and during the past two weeks, has referred often to the trip with its happy associations.
Four children survive her: Mrs. Charles F. Ridlon of Norway, Mrs. Herman Paragard, Mrs. George C. Stove and Edward Clough, all of Lynn.
Mr. and Mrs. Ridlon received word at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, and went to Portland by auto to take the 9 A. M. train for Boston. Services were held in Lynn, Tuesday forenoon and the burial was in Saco.
Albert Bartlett and Howard Chick went to Brunswick, Tuesday, where they will enter Bowdoin College. Murray Bigelow also returned to Bowdoin to continue his studies.
Jacob Klain has returned to Colby College. Paul Brooks has also gone to Colby, where he will enter his Freshman year.
Francis S. Andrews left Monday night for Hanover, N. H., where he will enter Dartmouth College.
Donald Welch and Arthur Dow resume their studies this week at the University of Maine, at Orono.
W. E. Drew of Woodfords, has been spending a few days in town and boarded at Frank H. Richardson's. Mr. Drew and family contemplate moving to Norway.
Stephen Libby brought in a number of full grown dandelion blossoms, Tuesday, which he picked at South Paris. He said he thought that it was pretty late for dandelion blossoms, but while on his way over he noticed in a yard on Paris street the lawn was speckled with them.
Hubert Barker and Donald Bartlett left Sunday for Louisville, Ky., where they will enter the Louisville Dental College and take a course in dentistry. Mr. Barker intends to take a three year course and Mr. Bartlett a two year course. They do not plan to return until the end of their course. This college is the one where Dr. Wendall Rounds, of South Paris, who was with Dr. F. E. Drake for a year, is located.
Donald Shiles and two Harvard College friends, Paul Goddard and Lee Miller, were guests during fair week at S. B. Cummings'. Leoline Robinson, of Oxford, was also a guest of Ruth Cummings. Friday the party left for a trip around the mountains, going as far as Bethel, where they were overtaken by rain. They ate their lunch under a covered bridge and returned home.
F. P. Stone has installed one of the latest types of popcorn poppers at his drug store. The popper runs by electricity and the corn popped by a gasoline flame. On the top of the machine is a glass receptacle in which the kernels of corn are placed. As the machine turns, the kernels drop into the popper, which revolves over the gasoline burner. As the corn pops it passes on into an endless chain, the popped corn passes to the right while the "old maids" drop through the chain and are carried into a tunnel to the bottom of the machine. These popped kernels go through a narrow passage, where each kernel is buttered, being drawn through the butter, then drops into the lower part of the glass enclosed machine, the bottom of which is heated keeping the popcorn hot.
The Junior department of the Congregational Sunday School was closed Sunday, it being thought best on account of the case of infantile paralysis.
Madeline Pride is assisting Mrs. R. L. Powers and Lillian Powers at their millinery store this season.
Mrs. Dora Tower, who has been working for Mrs. Walter Luck, has finished her work there.
Clara Shepard will resume her studies at the Conservatory of Music. Miss Shepard has been spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. John C. Shepard, at their cottage at the lake.
Bert L. Hutchins, clerk at Hills Jewellers' Convention at Bangor, Tuesday and Wednesday. He called on his sister, Mrs. Richard J. Lasselle and family, at Gardiner, on his way to Bangor.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Ridlon were called to Lynn, Mass., Sunday, by the death of Mrs. Ridlon's mother, Mrs. Charles Clough, who died suddenly with acute indigestion. Mrs. Clough spent the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Ridlon since the first of July, having returned to Lynn the third day of September.
Mrs. Emma Mann, who has been spending the past four weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Julius Peterson, at Wollaston, and Mrs. Ralph Kneeland of Somerville, Mass., returned home Monday night.
The "Small Farm" so-called, near West Paris, owned by Emil Kalliovarjo, has been sold to Everett E. Reed of Auburn through the Dennis Pike Real Estate & Insurance Agency.
A number of young men from here went to Fort Williams, Thursday. They entered the hospital corps to take the place of the members of the coast artillery who are away on a ten days' cruise. They plan to return Saturday. Those who went are Philip Foss, James Cleveland, Merton Herick, Roy Snow, James Phinney, Harry Packard, Sam Klain and Clarence Stevens, and a number from Oxford and Mechanic Falls.
Mrs. Meador Kilbreth of Turner has been a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Gilbert.
There will be work in Oxford Chapter, O. E. S., at the next meeting, Tuesday, September 26th.
Mrs. Percy Bailey of Portland spent last week with Margaret and Jennie Barker.

Waterford. It is now necessary to support and encourage these teachers in their work that we may get the most out of the year's work. Contented teachers get results.
A large number of Waterford pupils have entered secondary schools this fall. Although the fall enrollment for the common schools is not complete, yet judging from appearances, at the schools, there are more pupils in the schools this year than last year.
The largest entering class at Norway High School was registered Sept. 11th, there being fifty. There are about thirty tuition pupils enrolled this year, which means $900 in tuition money for the year. In 1912 there were six tuition pupils. As soon as all pupils return to the school there will be about 140 enrolled. Last year there were just one hundred. There is no reason why we should not have a school of 200, provided we could provide room at the high school to accommodate them together with places for board and rooms in the village. This would mean a large income to the whole town and would make Norway an educational center for Oxford County pupils.
The large entering class has made it necessary to take over the eighth grade room for high school purposes as no other room can furnish accommodations for recitation work in English and Algebra when the whole class recites together. Neither will the assembly room accommodate the whole school.
As a consequence of this necessity, each grade in the building has been moved back one room, which has left the third grade to be accommodated elsewhere than in the building. Arrangements have been made whereby the small vestry at the Congregational church will be fitted up for the use of this grade for the present term at least.
The three upper grades will be assigned recitation rooms on the first floor at the Academy building and the sixth grade will be assigned to the formerly ninth grade room.
Elizabeth McCreery of Pittsburg, Pa., is to teach the music and drawing. She is a graduate of the Thomas Normal Training School of Detroit. She taught in the Detroit schools last year.
Mr. and Mrs. McCall of Peabody Mass. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Spiller last week. Saturday they enjoyed an auto trip around the mountains and Sunday Mr. Spiller took them to Portland where they took the train for Massachusetts.
Mrs. Adna Keene and granddaughter, Margaret Thayer, are visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Lovejoy, at Old Orchard.
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thayer are taking an automobile tour through New York state and New Jersey.
Mrs. Lois R. Fisher, who has been the guest of her brother, W. V. Sheen, for the past week, has returned to her home in Everett, Mass. During her pleasant sojourn a visit was paid to friends in West Kennebunk.
The ladies of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. H. L. Bartlett, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There is business of special importance to come before the meeting.
The Home Mission Society of the Methodist church will meet with Etta Noyes, Friday afternoon at two o'clock. The Foreign Missionary Society met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. George Buswell.
Mayford Mann spent Sunday in Auburn and attended the meeting of the State Board of Officers of the Y. P. C. U.
Mrs. John C. Shepard is spending a few days with Mrs. Maud DeCoster at her home on Pike Hill. Mrs. Shepard, Doris and Ned will go to South Royalton, Vt., the last of the week, where they will spend a week at their old home. After their vacation in Vermont they will return to Norway previous to going to their home at Auburn for the winter.
Shirley McKay, who is canvassing for the "Review of Reviews," returned from Rumford Tuesday, where he has been canvassing. Shirley has nearly 200 subscriptions at the present time, which is one-half of the full amount he wishes to obtain. He has until the first of December to complete the amount.
Russell Bethell goes to Boston, Thursday. He will attend Tuft's Dental College.
Mrs. Sumner Parker and grandson, Norman, who have been spending the past ten weeks at Willard Beach with her sons, Ralph and Clarence, returned home Monday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Walker, Mrs. Mary Cole, Abbie Curtis, Jennie Baker and Annie Mamin enjoyed a trip of 242 miles Sunday, visiting both Crawford and Dixville Notches.
Mrs. Etta Norsworthy has resumed work in the dress-making parlors of the Brown, Buck & Company's Dry Goods Store.
The bridge on Bridge street is at last being repaired. New underpinning has been put in. On both sides ornamental cement posts have been placed for the fence. The cement sidewalk will soon be laid.
The O. B. Cummings Sons Company's building, which is being erected where the old blacksmith shop formerly stood is well under way. The extensive cement foundation is in place and the cement steps laid. The frame of the building is now being put up and is in charge of Charles Evers. Near the center of the building a large cement vault has been built.
L. I. Gilbert has on exhibition in his store window a piece of Mexican Chesnut which belongs to Harry A. Packard. This Mexican chesnut was brought from the border by a Fort Williams regular army soldier. The wood is a dark brown, nicely grained and has a heavy bark similar to the hemlock. Between the bark and the body of the wood is a yellow-like substance of nearly one-half inch thickness.
Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Packard of Lawrence, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Packard, of Lisbon Falls, have been spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis I. Gilbert.
Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Gilbert and Mrs. Harry Packard spent Sunday in Portland. They made the trip in Mr. Gilbert's auto and visited Harry Packard, who is at Fort Williams.
